My name is Joseph Varsanyi and i am 12 years old. I am being homeschooled in Tharwa by my mother. I think that if you put the tanks on the main road right in front of the shop, it will be an eyesore to everyone. I do not think having them there will be a good idea because fire trucks will line up and block the road right in front of the preschool where little kids cross the road. Mum has shown me where the tanks could be behind the shop and up the hill. That would be better because then the old Shop would still be the main feature for people who drive through the town.
