

To examine matters related to planning, public works and land management, conservation and heritage, transport services, and environment and ecological sustainability.