Hi Team

1. As a motorcyclist in Canberra I've found that it feels a lot safer not having more distractions for the cars. Having been knocked off my bike in Sydney, I'm sure there are many contributing factors but road safety is affected by attention, and attention is taken by road signs.
2. Keep this place somewhere we can be proud of, and lack of spam is really something I'm sure the person dealing with this and the rest of the emails can appreciate.
3. Also, advertising people don't give a damn about us. They just here to make a buck and generally make the world a more insecure lonely place.
