Subject: DV308 Cooyong Street Development Proposal Submission

My concern remains that this major development proposal is being considered in isolation from a larger plan for the city centre. Too many ad hoc developments have already proceeded in the city without consideration of how they might fit within a broader scheme. The results to date have been a steady degradation of a coherent, livable, visually pleasing area, to the extent that I never go to Civic anymore even though it is my closest town centre. The ghastly Canberra Centre has alienated much of civic from the rest of the city. The proposed variation seems likely to further wreck the eastern side of the city. To say that this objection is outside the scope of the consultation is unsatisfactory in the extreme.
