b) in response to dangerous driving.

Need to work with other states authority to close in on the hoon. I hear "oak estate" ACT plate cars with obnoxiously loud engine and exhaust driving down Queanbeyan, but nothing can be done by NSW police. Likewise for "queanbeyan" cars in ACT doing anti social stuff, especially day time near canberra centres and along london circuit.

h) in identifying dangerous driving.

Take those modified cars with noisy exhaust and engine off the street, regardless of which state the vehicle is registered in. Then identify who is modding those vehicles after clearing inspection, as they help the reoffender. Yes those mechanics!

Sometimes the car drive so fast that i can't take down the details quick enough to report to authorities too. Why not install more camera's?

I find crimestopper submission ineffective and opaque. I find both EPA NSW and Access Canberra not helpful when I report offending cars with noise pollution. Your current laws are too easy on them, and it is the rate payer who suffers.
