Committee Secretary

I wish to put forward some of my views forward regarding end of life choices being canvassed by the committee.

I strongly disagree with assisted suicide that has passed into law in Victoria and being considered by other States and Territories.

No matter how "tight" the legislation it will be impossible to prevent abuse or even widen the scope of the legislation once it is introduced.

Former Prime Minister Keating and Chief Minister Stanhope are opposed to this legislation, not to mention the AMA.

More funding should be provided to palliative care as changes and new methods are always being discovered. Once euthanasia laws are introduced there is no doubt that palliative care will not receive adequate funding or more likely reduced funding.

yours faithfully
