Table of Contents

1 INTRODUCTION
1.1 STYLE MANUAL PRINCIPLES

2 USEFUL LINKS
2.1 ACRONYMS
2.2 AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENTS
2.3 COMMONWEALTH GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS
2.4 COMPUTER TERMS
2.5 FEDERAL PARLIAMENT
2.6 LEGAL
2.7 LEGISLATION
2.8 ACT
2.9 MEDICAL
2.10 NATIONAL LIBRARY
2.11 PLACE NAMES
2.12 NEWS
2.13 WORDS
2.14 WORLD GEOGRAPHY
2.15 ACT SPECIFIC

3 SPELLING

4 ABBREVIATIONS AND CONTRACTIONS
4.1 ABBREVIATIONS
4.2 AMPERSAND
4.3 COMPANY NAMES
4.4 CONTRACTIONS

Page 2 of 101
6.4.5 Exceptions

6.5 DEGREES, ORDERS AND AWARDS

6.6 SCHEMES, PROGRAMS AND FUNDS

6.7 CONVENTIONS, TREATIES, CONFERENCES ET CETERA

6.8 HISTORICAL, POLITICAL AND SPORTING EVENTS

6.9 SPECIAL OCCASIONS

6.10 PLACE NAMES

6.11 GROUPS OF PEOPLE

6.12 ETHNIC AND RELIGIOUS GROUPS

6.13 IDEOLOGIES

6.14 WORDS DERIVED FROM NAMES

6.15 SCIENTIFIC TERMINOLOGY

6.16 TRADEMARKS

6.17 TITLES

   6.17.1 Books, poems, plays, operas, ballets, musicals, films, songs, works of art, and radio and television programs

   6.17.2 Newspapers and magazines

   6.17.3 Documents, booklets, handbooks and brochures

   6.17.4 Collections and exhibitions

6.18 SACRED WRITINGS

6.19 CAPITALS ASSOCIATED WITH PUNCTUATION

   6.19.1 Hyphenated titles

   6.19.2 Colons

7 ITALICS

   7.1 NAMES OF NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS

   7.2 BOOKS, POEMS, PLAYS, REPORTS, BOOKLETS, HANDBOOKS, BROCHURES, OPERAS, BALLETs, MUSICALS, FILMS, WORKS OF ART, SONGS, COLLECTIONS, EXHIBITIONS AND...
RADIO AND TELEVISION PROGRAMS 51

7.3 LECTURES, ESSAYS, CHAPTERS OF BOOKS, MAGAZINE ARTICLES, SUBMISSIONS, PAPERS, NEWSPAPER HEADLINES 52

7.4 SCIENTIFIC NAMES 52

7.5 SHIPS, AIRCRAFT AND TRAINS 53

7.6 DESCRIPTIVE LINES NOT PART OF THE NORMAL PROCEDURE OR REPORTED SPEECH 53

7.7 WHEN NOT TO USE ITALICS 54

8 LEGISLATIVE AND LEGAL TERMS 55

8.1 LEGISLATION 55

8.1.1 Bills 55

8.1.2 Acts 56

8.1.3 Regulations 57

8.2 COURT CASES 58

8.3 COURTS 58

8.4 COMMISSIONS AND TRIBUNALS 59

8.5 LEGAL TERMS AND OFFICE HOLDERS 59

9 NUMBERS 60

9.1 GENERAL RULES 60

9.1.1 One to nine 60

9.1.2 Ordinals 60

9.1.3 Numbers following a noun 61

9.1.4 Thousands 61

9.2 SPECIFIC RULES 62

9.2.1 Addresses 62

9.2.2 Ages 62

9.2.3 Beginning sentences 62

9.2.4 Percentages 63
9.16 SIZES 73
9.17 THOUSANDS AND MILLIONS 73
9.18 YEARS AND SPANS OF YEARS 73
10 PUNCTUATION 74

10.1 APOSTROPHE 74

10.1.1 Nouns and indefinite pronouns 75
10.1.2 Plural nouns 75
10.1.3 Singular nouns ending in s 75
10.1.4 Where possession is not defined 76
10.1.5 Geographical terms 76
10.1.6 Apostrophes in contractions 76
10.1.7 Non-word plurals 77

10.2 BRACKETS 77

10.3 COLON 77

10.3.1 Introducing lists, quotations et cetera 78
10.3.2 Introducing a statement 78
10.3.3 Prefacing direct speech or quotations 78
10.3.4 Titles and subtitles 78

10.4 COMMAS 79

10.4.1 Between adjectives 79
10.4.2 Introductory adverbial clauses 79
10.4.3 Adverbs, adverbial phrases and clauses within sentences 80
10.4.4 When linked by conjunction 80
10.4.5 Defining and non-defining relative clauses 81
10.4.6 Names or titles of persons 81
10.4.7 Defining and non-defining phrases 81
10.4.8 Omission of words 82
10.4.9 Participles and participle phrases 82
10.4.10 Honorary titles or degrees 83
10.4.11 Clarifying groups of words or numbers 83
10.4.12 Use with “and”, “or” 83
10.4.13 Ambiguities with single words or short phrases 83

10.5 DASH 84
10.5.1 Parenthetical statements 84
10.5.2 Change in the structure of a sentence 84
10.5.3 Long lists in sentences 84
10.5.4 Dramatic effect 85
10.5.5 Interruptions 85
10.5.6 Interpolations 85

10.6 ELLIPSIS 85
10.6.1 Omission of words 86
10.6.2 Omission of paragraphs 86

10.7 Exclamation mark 86
10.7.1 True exclamations 86
10.7.2 Common parliamentary terms and interjections 86
10.7.3 Irony or sarcasm 86
10.7.4 Exclamatory questions 86

10.8 HYPHEN 87
10.8.1 Compound words in Macquarie Dictionary 87
10.8.2 Compound words not in Macquarie Dictionary 87
10.8.3 Possible confusion or awkwardness 87
10.8.4 Compound nouns 88
10.8.5 Compound adjectives 88
10.8.6 Base words beginning with a capital letter 90
10.8.7 Single letter used with a word 90
10.8.8 Prefix 90
10.8.9 Numbers and quantities 91
10.8.10 Adjectival combinations of colours 91
10.8.11 Financial year or a span of years 91
10.8.12 When not to use a hyphen 92
10.9 OBLIQUE STROKE 93
10.10 PARAGRAPHING 93
10.11 QUESTION MARK 94
10.12 QUOTATION MARKS 94
   10.12.1 Newspapers, headlines, articles, essays and lectures 94
   10.12.2 Technical terms, colloquial, humorous or slang words 95
   10.12.3 Miscellaneous 95
10.13 SEMICOLON 95
   10.13.1 Single sentence from two or more clauses 95
   10.13.2 Before a conjunction 96
   10.13.3 Separating clauses or phrases 96
   10.13.4 Separating parallel clauses 96
11 QUOTATIONS 96
11.1 INCOMPLETE QUOTATIONS AND SHORT COMPLETE QUOTATIONS 96
   11.1.1 Incomplete quotations 96
   11.1.2 Short complete quotations 97
11.2 LONGER QUOTATIONS 97
   11.2.1 Introduction of indented text 98
11.2.2 Formatting of indented text 98
11.2.3 Omission of words 98
11.2.4 Lengthy omissions 98
11.2.5 Incomplete quotations 98
11.2.6 Interruptions 99
11.2.7 Indirect quotations 99

12 SPECIAL STYLE 99
12.1 COMMONLY MISSPELT, MISUSED OR CONFUSED WORDS AND TERMS 99
12.2 COMPUTER TERMS 101
1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 STYLE MANUAL PRINCIPLES

This style manual sets out the principles of usage and style to be followed by Hansard editors to produce chamber and committee transcripts for the Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory. Its purpose is to assist editors to produce high quality transcripts that are characterised by clarity of expression, consistency of style, and good punctuation and grammar.

It contains guiding principles on issues such as capitalisation, how to show numbers and using punctuation skilfully to preserve the meaning of the spoken word in the written report. There is also a usage section, which focuses on words or phrases that are often misused or confused, and a list of useful web addresses. Where possible, web addresses and links have also been included in individual sections to assist editors to resolve issues quickly and easily.

The need for production consistency in the face of the variety of styles and the broad range of subject matter encountered by Hansard editors demand adherence to the principles enunciated in this manual. The contents of this manual are reviewed periodically to ensure consistency with style developments in the wider community.

This manual draws from the following publications:

Commonwealth Style Manual

Verification of the spelling of proper nouns is essential. There are a number of useful websites which editors are encouraged to use for this purpose. These are listed in Section 12 USEFUL LINKS and are also be found in relevant sections of the manual.

This manual has been made as accessible as possible, according to the World Wide Web Consortium’s Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, version 2.0.

2 USEFUL LINKS

2.1 ACRONYMS

International: http://www.acronymfinder.com/

2.2 AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENTS

Commonwealth and links to state government sites, parliaments etc, as well as links to some overseas governments:
http://www.directory.gov.au

Gazettes:

2.3 COMMONWEALTH GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

Information and links: http://www.directory.gov.au

2.4 COMPUTER TERMS

http://whatis.techtarget.com/

2.5 FEDERAL PARLIAMENT

Home: http://www.aph.gov.au

2.6 LEGAL

Courts and judges:

Legal information: http://www.virtualref.com/abs/283.htm

2.7 LEGISLATION

Australian (federal and states):

2.8 ACT

2.9 MEDICAL

2.10 NATIONAL LIBRARY

Links to Australian newspapers online and other internet resources and information:

2.11 PLACE NAMES

2.12 NEWS

http://www.abc.net.au/

http://www.bbc.co.uk/

2.13 WORDS

Latin phrases

2.14 WORLD GEOGRAPHY

http://www.worldatlas.com/

2.15 ACT SPECIFIC

http://actdirectory/

Renumeration Tribunal: http://www.remtribunal.gov.au

3 SPELLING

The Macquarie Dictionary, sixth edition, 2013 is the first reference point for spelling, including for compound and hyphenated words. Sometimes—we have kept them to the minimum—the Hansard Style Manual takes precedence over the Macquarie.
Where a spelling in the Macquarie Dictionary appears without a definition but with an arrow cross-referencing it to the main spelling, the main spelling should be used. For example, for “enquire”, see “inquire”.

Where two spellings are given in the same entry (some words may be joined by an = sign) the first should be used. For example, “adviser=advisor”, use “adviser”. Hansard maintains a word list of commonly used words for which there are exceptions.

4  ABBREVIATIONS AND CONTRACTIONS

Shortened words such as "bus" and "phone" have become words in their own right and should not be shown with an apostrophe or full stop.

4.1 ABBREVIATIONS

A shortened form of a word is not followed by a full stop.

St (for saint, but not for street; see section 4.10 Streets and other location identifiers)

No 21

4.2 AMPERSAND

Ampersands are not generally used in Hansard transcripts; however, the following exceptions apply:

PM&C P&C association ACT Fire & Rescue Ernst & Young

BUT an ampersand should not be used in NHMRC, for example, as the council itself does not use one. Do not use an ampersand to replace “and” in text.

For court case titles see section 8.2 Court cases.

4.3 COMPANY NAMES

Use the following shortened forms for company names, regardless of the company’s preference.

Inc Pty Co Ltd

4.4 CONTRACTIONS

(See also section 10.1.6 Apostrophes in quotations.)

Generally, contractions should not be used in Legislative Assembly transcripts except:
• in interjections;
• in the reporting of direct speech; and
• when the full words would sound stilted.

For example:

You have read that report, haven’t you?

NOT: You have read that report, have you not? (unless it was said)

Let’s revisit that in the detail stage.

NOT: Let us revisit that in the detail stage.

Committee transcripts are generally more verbatim or less formal than Assembly transcripts. Therefore, contractions, if said, may be used more liberally in committee transcripts.

4.5 COURTESY TITLES

Use abbreviations or contractions in the following cases when they appear as part of a person’s name:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Mr</th>
<th>Mrs</th>
<th>Ms</th>
<th>Messrs</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dr</td>
<td>Esq</td>
<td>Hon</td>
<td>Rt Hon</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Courtesy titles not listed above should be set out in full in the text.

In committee transcripts, titles are spelt out in full in the body of the text, with the exception of the examples above. However, they are abbreviated as side names, as per the following:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TITLE</th>
<th>SIDE NAME</th>
<th>TITLE</th>
<th>SIDE NAME</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Acting Superintendent</td>
<td>Supt</td>
<td>The Hon</td>
<td>Mr/Mrs/Ms/Dr</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Admiral</td>
<td>Adm</td>
<td>Inspector</td>
<td>Insp</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Air Commodore</td>
<td>Air Cdre</td>
<td>Judge</td>
<td>Judge</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Air Vice Marshal</td>
<td>Air Vice Marshal</td>
<td>Justice*</td>
<td>Justice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Air Marshal</td>
<td>Air Marshal</td>
<td>Lieutenant</td>
<td>Lt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alderman (official)</td>
<td>Alderman</td>
<td>Lieutenant Colonel</td>
<td>Lt Col</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ambassador</td>
<td>Ambassador</td>
<td>Lieutenant Commander</td>
<td>Lt Cmdr</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assistant Commissioner</td>
<td>Asst Commissioner</td>
<td>Lieutenant General</td>
<td>Lt Gen</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Associate Professor</td>
<td>Prof</td>
<td>Magistrate</td>
<td>Mr, Mrs, Ms</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brother</td>
<td>Brother</td>
<td>Major</td>
<td>Major</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brigadier</td>
<td>Brig</td>
<td>Major General</td>
<td>Major Gen</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Captain</td>
<td>Capt</td>
<td>Mr Justice*</td>
<td>Mr Justice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chief Inspector</td>
<td>Chief Insp</td>
<td>Mr, Mrs, Ms</td>
<td>Mr, Mrs, Ms</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chief Justice</td>
<td>Chief Justice</td>
<td>Pro Vice Chancellor</td>
<td>Pro Vice Chancellor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chief Superintendent</td>
<td>Chief Supt</td>
<td>Professor</td>
<td>Prof</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colonel</td>
<td>Col</td>
<td>Rear Admiral</td>
<td>Rear Adm</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commander</td>
<td>Cmdr</td>
<td>Regimental Sergeant Major</td>
<td>Sgt Major</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commissioner</td>
<td>Commissioner</td>
<td>Reverend</td>
<td>Rev</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commodore</td>
<td>Cdre</td>
<td>Reverend Father</td>
<td>Rev Father</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Constable</td>
<td>Const</td>
<td>Reverend Doctor</td>
<td>Rev Dr</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Councillor (official)</td>
<td>Councillor</td>
<td>Right Reverend</td>
<td>Bishop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deputy Commissioner</td>
<td>Dep Commissioner</td>
<td>Senior Constable</td>
<td>Snr Const</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deputy Mayor</td>
<td>Councillor</td>
<td>Senior Sergeant</td>
<td>Snr Sgt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TITLE</td>
<td>SIDE NAME</td>
<td>TITLE</td>
<td>SIDE NAME</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
<td>-------------------------------</td>
<td>-------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detective</td>
<td>Det</td>
<td>Sergeant</td>
<td>Sgt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detective Chief Inspector</td>
<td>Det Chief Insp</td>
<td>Sir</td>
<td>Sir</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detective Senior Sergeant</td>
<td>Det Snr Sgt</td>
<td>Sister</td>
<td>Sister</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doctor</td>
<td>Dr</td>
<td>Squadron Leader</td>
<td>Sqn Ldr</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Emeritus Professor</td>
<td>Prof</td>
<td>Station Sergeant</td>
<td>Sgt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Father</td>
<td>Father</td>
<td>Superintendent</td>
<td>Supt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Federal Agent</td>
<td>Federal Agent</td>
<td>Superintendent, Acting</td>
<td>Supt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flight Lieutenant</td>
<td>Flt Lt</td>
<td>The Hon</td>
<td>Mr/Mrs/Ms/Dr</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General</td>
<td>Gen</td>
<td>Vice Admiral</td>
<td>Vice Adm</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Group Captain</td>
<td>Group Capt</td>
<td>Warrant Officer</td>
<td>Warrant Officer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>His/Her Excellency, Mr/Mrs/Ms</td>
<td>Ambassador</td>
<td>Wing Commander</td>
<td>Wing Cmdr</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* “Justice” unless witness puts “Mr Justice” on the witness details.

 Police commissioners only.

4.6 INITIALS

No full stops or spaces are used between and after initials.

Mr AB Smith

Michael J Brown

Abbreviations that consist of more than one capital letter, or of capital letters only, are written without full stops.

PO Box 5 12 BC 100 AD PhD QEII

4.7 LATIN

Abbreviations such as viz, eg and ie may be used, if said. (No stops)
4.8 MILLIONS, BILLIONS AND TRILLIONS

(See also sections 9.3.8 Thousands, millions, billions and trillions (of dollars); and 9.17 Thousands and millions)

Spell out million, billion and trillion when used with amounts of money. The abbreviation m ($200m) should not be used.

$200 million $2 billion $4 trillion

In other cases, follow the general rules applying to numbers (see section 9.1.1 One to nine): express numbers one to nine—however used in larger numerical compounds—in words and numbers above nine in figures. For example:

4.9 NUMBER

Use No for number and Nos for numbers (no stops) when followed by a figure.

Appropriation Bill (No 1)

appropriation bills Nos 1 and 2

BUT

To dial Optus, press the number 1.

The number one priority ...

This is number one on the list.

4.10 STREETS AND OTHER LOCATION IDENTIFIERS

Words such as Mount, Street, Crescent should be spelt out, with an initial capital letter, when part of a name.

Mount Isa

Wall Street

corner of George and Hunter streets

Dampier Crescent

4.11 TIMES

Show as follows:

8 am to 2 pm 8.06 am 2 pm
At the start of a speech:

MR BROWN (Brindabella) (11.10):

After midnight:

MS SMITH (Ginninderra) (1.05 am):

5 ACRONYMS AND COMPOUND NAMES

There is no need to give the full name indicated by the acronym if it is not said. However, it is the editor’s responsibility to check that the acronym used is correct.

An excellent source for acronyms is often the relevant department’s annual report; they are usually listed at the end of the report.

5.1 AWARDS, GRADES, ORDERS AND TITLES

Do not use full stops or spaces.

ASO6 DLitt DSO EL1 APS6
MLA OBE PhD QC SOGB

Mr Jones QC, OBE

5.2 COMPOUND NAMES

Compound names are names that combine elements of two or more words, as opposed to acronyms, which consist strictly of initial letters. Use capital letters for compound names in accordance with the style of the relevant organisation.

ACTMAP systems ACTTAB ACTSPORT
ActewAGL ACTEW Corporation Ltd SouthCare helicopter
5.3 ACRONYMS

5.3.1 CAPITAL LETTERS IN ACRONYMS AND INITIALS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ABC</th>
<th>ACOSS</th>
<th>ACROD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ACTION</td>
<td>ACTTAB</td>
<td>ACTU</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AIDS</td>
<td>ALP</td>
<td>CHEA</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CPSU</td>
<td>HIV/AIDS</td>
<td>ILO</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ILO</td>
<td>MLA</td>
<td>NHMRC</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TAFE</td>
<td>UK</td>
<td>UN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>USA</td>
<td>WA</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note: If a member says “USA” or “WA” there is no need to expand the acronym, but do not use “WA” if the member said “Western Australia”.

5.3.2 ACRONYMS THAT HAVE BECOME FULLY ACCEPTED AS INDEPENDENT WORDS

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary in these cases, using lower case letters but with an initial capital letter in some cases.

radar       scuba

Qantas      anzac biscuits BUT Anzac Day

5.4 INITIALS

Some initials, usually associated with a figure, are shown with lower case letters and no full stops.

25 bhp 50 kph
8 pm 8 am
5.5 PARENTHESSES

Parentheses may be used, particularly in acronyms such as:

AD(JR) legislation  LA(MS) legislation

5.6 PLURALS

Plurals are formed by adding “s” without using an apostrophe.

MLAs  PhDs  1990s

BUT

p’s and q’s  dot the i’s and cross the t’s

5.7 POSSESSIVES

(See also section 10.1 Apostrophe)

Possessives are formed by adding apostrophe s.

the AMA’s letter  both FASs’ qualifications

This is so in all cases, as per the following examples:

Mr Smith’s  Ms Jones’s

Jesus’s  Menzies’s

6 CAPITAL LETTERS

The modern trend is to use capital letters sparingly, usually only for full proper nouns. Hansard follows the general principles of the Macquarie Dictionary and the Commonwealth Style Manual, while differing on some details where there are inconsistencies.

The following list of words and terms provides guidance in the use of initial capital letters in commonly used parliamentary words and terms.
6.1 PARLIAMENTARY WORDS AND TERMS

A

act(s)—

division
paragraph, subparagraph part (part 1)
preamble
schedule (schedule 1, first schedule) section, subsection
title

Acting Secretary to the Department of Health and Community Care BUT acting secretary to the health department

AD(JR) Act

adjournment debate

administration (ie the Barr administration, the Abbott administration) administration and procedure committee BUT Select Committee on Administration and Procedure administrative arrangements order

Advance to the Treasurer, Treasurer’s advance, the advance appropriations, the appropriations

appropriation bills

Appropriation Bill (No 1) 2013-2014

Appropriation Bill (Office of the Legislative Assembly) 2013-2014

Assembly—

previous Assemblies

the Assembly

the First Assembly, the Eighth Assembly

Attorney-General
Attorney-General’s Department, A-G’s
the attorney (meaning the Attorney-General) attorneys-general (BUT Standing Committee of Attorneys-General) Auditor-General, auditor (meaning the Auditor-General) autumn sittings
ayes (ayes and noes)

B
backbench (row of seats)
backbench (members of)—He did not consult his backbench, either.
backbencher bar (legal and Assembly)
bill(s)—
  appropriation bills
  clause division
  paragraph part (part 1)
  preamble
  schedule (schedule 1, first schedule)
  subclause
  subparagraph
  title
block 1 section 2 (no punctuation) budget(s)— budget paper No 1
  the budget paper
  BP4 (no space) budget papers budget session
budget speech, the Treasurer’s speech, the speech

There is only one budget speech—the Treasurer’s. References to speeches on the budget by other members should be rendered as “the member’s speech on the budget” or “Mr Smith’s speech on the budget” mini-budget

state budget(s)

C cabinet(s) caucus(es)
chair, the (whether the occupant of or the piece of furniture)
Chair of the Standing Committee on Education, Training and Young People Chair of the Standing Committee on Education, the chairman chamber Chief Minister, chief ministers clause 4(3)(a)—no spaces
Clerk of the Assembly—
the Clerk
Deputy Clerk of the Assembly
Deputy Clerk
Acting Clerk
clerks (plural)
coalition, the (disregard Macquarie Dictionary) committee, the standing committee, the committee commonwealth, the commonwealth parliament, Commonwealth of Australia consolidated revenue (fund) constitution, the; Australian Constitution Crown—(see also Macquarie Dictionary)

Crown, the (sovereign or governing power) crown land crown lease the Crown v Smith minister of the Crown
the shield of the Crown crossbench

D

Department of Immigration and Citizenship, the immigration department (federal)
Deputy Chief Minister
Deputy Clerk of the Assembly, Deputy Clerk
Deputy Prime Minister directorate, Health Directorate dispatch box
division—
    division of a bill or act division bells in division

E

estimates—additional estimates an estimates committee estimates committees forward estimates in estimates supplementary estimates the estimates committee executive—the executive executive decision

the executive side of government

an ex-senator

ex-Senator Peter Jones

F

defederal—

federal authorities

federal capital

federal government of Australia, the federal government federal politics

federal system federal Treasurer

Federation (the event)

federation (general)—eg a federation of states frontbench (row of seats)

frontbench (members of)

frontbencher

G

gallery—

the gallery

Speaker’s gallery press gallery (the collection of press representatives or the area in which the press representatives sit)

public gallery
general business (a section of the notice paper) general business order of the day No 6 government—a government government business (section of the notice paper) government business order of the day No 7 government members government policy government supporters governments in government
the government (the Gallagher government, the Howard-Vaile government et cetera)
the government of the day (a specific government or generally) the government’s program
Governor-General—
   Governor-General in Council
   Governor-General, the
   Her/His Excellency the Governor-General green paper
the Greens, the ACT Greens
the green movement

H

Hansard (the document). Try to avoid using the plural ‘Hansards’; usually ‘Hansard’ will suffice.
Hansard staff
Head of Service head of state, heads of state house—
House of Representatives house of review houses of parliament lower house
new Parliament House
Old Parliament House
Parliament House states house (ie the Senate)
the house (This house voted to retain the tax.)
upper house

Hon Kevin Rudd, the

I
(an) independent independents (quasi-party) tergovernment(al)

J, K

L
Labor Party (Australia)
Labour Party (UK and NZ) land act
Leader of the Opposition (BUT opposition leader, the leader, my leader) left—the left centre left left wing (n); left-wing (adj) socialist left legislation committee(s)
Liberal (of the Liberal Party)
Liberals liberal, small “l” liberal loan fund the Lodge

M
madam (may I say, madam)
Madam Assistant Speaker
Madam Deputy Speaker manager of government business manager of opposition business member(s) of parliament
member for Molonglo minister(s)— acting minister(s) former minister health minister(s), justice minister, sports minister
It was Minister Gallagher who told us that.
minister of the Crown
ministerial, prime ministerial Ministers Gallagher and Corbell shadow minister for health shadow minister(s)
this minister
You know, minister, that that is not true.
ministry(ies)— ministry
Smith ministry, the shadow ministry successive ministries

N
National Capital Plan
Nationals (members of the National Party of Australia)
NSW (give what is said—ie do not necessarily expand, except when in proper titles).
No 1
noes (ayes and noes)
notice of motion notice of motion No 2
notice paper(s)

O
Old Parliament House
Office of the Legislative Assembly, the office
One Nation opposition—in opposition Leader of the Opposition members of the opposition opposition leader opposition members opposition policy
  the opposition’s policy order of the day No 7 outyear parliament—
  Australian parliament commonwealth parliament
  federal parliament
  members of parliament
  new Parliament House
  Old Parliament House
  parliament(s) parliamentary counsel Parliamentary Counsel’s Office parliamentary triangle parliamentary zone
  South Australian parliament state parliament(s)
  Westminster, the mother of parliaments party—

  my party (a specific party) party leaders (generally) party room

portfolio (the education and training portfolio, the education portfolio)

Premier—a premier former Premier Carr Premier of New South Wales premiers
  Premiers Conference special premiers conference press, press gallery

Prime Minister, prime ministers, Deputy Prime Minister private member’s bill, private members’ bills

private members’ business

private members’ day privileges committee, Select Committee on Privileges procedure committee, the Standing Committee on Administration and Procedure procedural committees

public gallery

public service (generally and the Australian public service, the ACT public service), the service

Q

question time

Queen, the

R

right—

far right

new right

right wing (n) right-wing (adj)

the right

royal (when referring to the royal family, royal personages, activities and events)—

a royal visit

royal assent

royal commission

royal tour

royalty

royals, the
S

secretary of the Standing Committee on Planning and Environment, the committee secretary, the secretary

section 12A(c)(ii) (no space between subsection and paragraph)

self-government act

Serjeant-at-Arms

session (of parliament)

sessional order(s)

shadow treasurer, shadow attorney-general, shadow minister for education

sir (may I say, sir,) sitting (of parliament)

socialist left (of the ALP) (ignore Macquarie)

Speaker—

Mr Speaker, the Speaker, the statement made by Mr Speaker

Madam/Mr Deputy Speaker

Madam Assistant Speaker (identified first time), the Assistant Speaker

Mr Assistant Speaker (identified first time), the Assistant Speaker

the Assistant Speakers

spring sittings

Standing Committee on Education, Training and Youth Affairs

standing order(s)

state—

Australian state governments member state of ANZUS

state government school

state railways

states rights

state school
state(s) (ie NSW, Victoria et cetera) States (the United States of America)
the state
the states house (ie the Senate) statute book (not “books”) section 12A(c)(ii)—no spaces between subsections and paragraphs supply, supply bills

T
table
tax office, BUT Australian Taxation Office, the Taxation Office territory(ies)—
  territory (ACT and/or Northern Territory—disregard Macquarie Dictionary) territorians (ACT and/or Northern Territory—disregard Macquarie Dictionary) Territory Plan treasury—shadow treasurer
  Treasurer, treasurers treasury bench (not treasury benches) treasury bills/notes

U, V, W, X, Y, Z
WA (transcribe as said—ie do not necessarily expand, except when in proper titles).
whip—government whip opposition whip
  the whip
white paper
6.2 NAMES OF BODIES AND ORGANISATIONS

The general principle is to use initial capital letters for the official titles of specific bodies, organisations, corporate entities, sporting organisations et cetera. Use initial lower case letters when only part of the title is used.

Anglican Church, the church
Australian Broadcasting Corporation, the corporation
Australian Education Union, the union
Canberra Institute of Technology, the institute
Canberra Hospital [the], the hospital, TCH Centenary Hospital for Women and Children, Centenary hospital World Health Organisation (with an “s”)
Woden Valley Soccer Club

Schools—

Yarralumla Primary School
Marist College Canberra, the college
Canberra Girls Grammar School BUT girls grammar
Lake Ginninderra College, the college
Melba Copland Secondary School

When the words “Australian”, “of Australia”, “Commonwealth”, “Australian Capital Territory”, “ACT”, “Canberra”, “International”, “National”, “Royal”, “United Nations” or the name of an Australian state are omitted from an official title, the general principle is that the remaining words should take initial capital letters. Use a lower case initial letter if the reference is further shortened to a common noun or nouns—eg the bank/the audit office.

ACT Ambulance Service, the Ambulance Service, the service
ACT Fire & Rescue, ACT fire brigade
ACT Planning and Land Authority, the Planning and Land Authority, the authority ACT Rural Fire Service, the Rural Fire Service, the service ACT State Emergency Service, the State Emergency Service, the service
Australian Army, the Army
Australian Broadcasting Corporation, the Broadcasting Corporation, the corporation
Australian Medical Association, the Medical Association, the association
Australian National Audit Office, the National Audit Office, the audit office, Australian Taxation Office, the Taxation Office, the tax office
Federal Court of Australia, the Federal Court, the court (See section 8.3 Courts)
Law Society of the ACT, the Law Society
Reserve Bank of Australia, the Reserve Bank, the bank
Royal Australian Air Force, the Air Force
Royal Australian Mint, the Mint
Royal Australian Navy, the Navy
South Australian Housing Trust, the Housing Trust, the trust
United Nations Security Council, the Security Council, the council

There are some exceptions to this principle—for example, some parliamentary bodies and organisations for which we have decided to use initial capital letters when an initial or final word like “Australia” is omitted.

Australian Labor Party, Labor Party BUT the/my party
Liberal Party of Australia, Liberal Party BUT the/my party
High Court of Australia, the court
Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory, Legislative Assembly, the Assembly
Office of the Legislative Assembly

6.3 GOVERNMENT DIRECTORATES

Use the following principles as guidance on the use of initial capital and lower case letters for the names of government directorates.

If the full correct portfolio or directorate name is used, use initial capital letters. If only part of the portfolio or directorate name is used, even before or after the word “directorate”, use initial lower case letters.

the directorate, the justice directorate, the justice portfolio

If the full name of the directorate is used without the word “directorate”, use initial capital letters.

I sent it to Justice and Community Safety.

Is this a problem for Community Services?

Within ACT directorates and commonwealth departments, use lower case for the names of branches, divisions and units.
6.4 TITLES OF POSITIONS

(See also section 8.5 Legal Terms and Office Holders)

The use or non-use of initial capital letters for the titles of positions is an area ripe for dispute.

Given that Hansard publishes for a client base composed in large part of parliamentarians, statutory office holders, public servants and the like, the general principle—if the correct title can be confirmed relatively quickly and easily—is to err on the side of using initial capital letters when reference is made to these positions, even though this might be inconsistent with the increasing trend in general publishing to use initial lower case letters for position titles.

Prudent use of the internet is an excellent way to verify position titles quickly and accurately. For example, the titles of ACT government position holders are available at http://actdirectory. This is also accessible via the WhoG Apps icon on your desktop.

Where a title cannot be easily or readily verified, aim for consistency of capitalisation within the document and avoid ambiguity. Examples of the application of this general principle are set out below.

6.4.1 PARLIAMENTARY POSITIONS

Use upper case initial capital letters for parliamentary positions when the full correct title is used and where confirmatory information is available. If the full correct title is not used, use initial lower case letters.

Acting Minister for Education, Youth and Family Services, the acting education minister, the acting minister

Chair of the Standing Committee on Public Accounts, chair of the public accounts committee

Chairman of the Select Committee on Privileges, chairman of the committee, the chairman

Clerk, the Leader of the Opposition, the leader, my leader, the opposition leader

Minister for Education and Training, the education minister, the minister

BUT

You know, minister, that that is not true.

We wrote to Minister Gallagher about this.

government whip, the whip

6.4.2 STATUTORY POSITIONS

Similarly, use initial capital letters for the titles of statutory office holders when the full correct title is used and where confirmatory information is available.
If it is not possible to confirm the correct title relatively quickly and easily—eg for more obscure titles—use initial lower case letters, but be consistent within the document and avoid ambiguity. If the full correct title is not used, use initial lower case letters.

Australian Statistician, the statistician

Chief of the Defence Force, defence force chief

Chief Scientist, the scientist

Commissioner of Taxation, the taxation commissioner, the commissioner

Community Advocate, the advocate

Director of Public Prosecutions, the director

Electoral Commissioner, the commissioner

Human Rights and Discrimination Commissioner, the commissioner

Official Visitor, Official Visitors, an official visitor

Commonwealth statutory position holders may be found on the Remuneration Tribunal’s website: http://www.remtribunal.gov.au/principalExecutiveOffices/currentDetermination/listPEO.asp

ACT statutory position holders are listed at http://www.remunerationtribunal.act.gov.au/determinations

6.4.3 DEPARTMENTAL AND OTHER OFFICIAL POSITIONS

Similarly, use initial capital letters for the holders of departmental positions and other official positions when the full official name of the organisation appears as part of the title, and where confirmatory information is available.

If it is not possible to confirm the correct title relatively quickly and easily—eg for more obscure titles—use initial lower case letters, but be consistent within the transcript and avoid ambiguity. If the full correct title is not used, use initial lower case letters.

Acting Secretary to the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (federal), the acting foreign affairs secretary

Australian Ambassador to Ireland and the Holy See, the ambassador

Canadian High Commissioner, the commissioner

President of the ACTU, the president

Secretary to (NOT for) Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (federal), the secretary, the secretary to the foreign affairs department
6.4.4 COMPANY POSITIONS

Use initial capital letters for the holders of positions in companies, corporations, boards et cetera. In applying this general principle, it is recognised that it can sometimes be difficult to ascertain the full correct title of these position holders without unduly delaying transcript production.

If it is not possible to confirm the correct title relatively quickly and easily—eg for more obscure titles—use initial lower case letters but be consistent within the transcript and avoid ambiguity. If the full correct title is not used, use initial lower case letters.

   Chairman of the Commonwealth Banking Corporation, the chairman, the chairman of the corporation
   Managing Director of Dalgety Ltd, the managing director
   Chief Executive Officer of the Confederation of Australian Sport, the chief executive officer

6.4.5 EXCEPTIONS

Hansard makes exceptions to this general principle for the titles of holders of positions in some smaller and/or inconspicuous bodies or organisations that use initial capitals and lower case letters inconsistently or for which it is difficult to check the full correct title. In such cases, use initial lower case letters. For example:

   president of the parents and citizens association; president of the P&C association

However, note that the following are the full titles and carry initial capital letters.

   Chief Justice, the Chief Minister, the Director of Public Prosecutions, the Governor-General, the Premier, the President (of the United States), the Prime Minister, the Use initial lower case letters when official positions are referred to in the plural.

   Mr Justice Jones and Mr Justice Smith, the justices the Premier of New South Wales and the Premier of Tasmania, the premiers the Prime Minister of Australia and the Prime Minister of Israel, the prime ministers the Secretary to (NOT for) the Department of Urban Services and the Secretary to the Department of Health and Community Care, the secretaries [Commonwealth government]

Director-General of the Justice Directorate, the directorate

6.5 DEGREES, ORDERS AND AWARDS

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary for the capitalisation of degrees, orders and awards. If the term is not in the dictionary, do not use initial capital letters. Sometimes you may have to look up the abbreviation (eg MA) to find whether to use capitals. Some examples are:

- Queen’s Counsel
- Doctor of Philosophy
- Master of Science
- Bachelor of Science
- Master’s degree
- Bachelor’s degree
- diploma
- Doctor of Letters
- Order of Australia
- Medal of the Order of Australia
- Victoria Cross

6.6 SCHEMES, PROGRAMS AND FUNDS

Use initial lower case letters where the words “scheme”, “program” and “fund” are used unless there is a special reason for the use of initial capital letters, such as to avoid ambiguity. Some examples are:

- Australia Remembers
- A step up for our kids
- the Australian bicentennial road development program, the program
- Green Corps
- Landcare
- landcare and environment action plan (or program)
- national greenhouse strategy
- Parkcare
- Weathering the change
6.7 CONVENTIONS, TREATIES, CONFERENCES ET CETERA

Use initial capital letters for the full name of conventions, treaties, conferences et cetera. Initial lower case letters should be used when the common noun or nouns are used thereafter and for the plural.

Treaties to which Australia is a signatory are listed on the Australian Treaties Database (ATD), available at http://www.info.dfat.gov.au/treaties/. Another useful source for treaties is the UN treaties collection database, located https://treaties.un.org/Pages/ParticipationStatus.aspx?clang=en. Here is a list of common treaties:

- Declaration on Race and Racial Prejudice, the racial prejudice declaration, the declaration
- Draft Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, the draft declaration
- ILO Committee of Experts, the committee
- International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, the racial discrimination convention, the convention
- International Labour Conference, the conference
- International Year for the World’s Indigenous People
- South Pacific Forum, the forum
- Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, the nuclear non-proliferation treaty

6.8 HISTORICAL, POLITICAL AND SPORTING EVENTS

Use initial capital letters for historical or political events, periods or documents and for sporting events. Initial lower case letters should be used when the common noun or nouns are used thereafter and for the plural. (The Macquarie Dictionary takes priority over other Hansard principles where there is a conflict).

- Battle of Britain, the battle
- Black Thursday
- Christmas Day
- Cold War BUT a cold war
- Dark Ages
- Depression, the, or the Great Depression (in the 1930s)
- Federation (ie the founding of the Australian Commonwealth), since Federation BUT Brazil is a federation
- First World War, World War I
- French Revolution
Gulf War industrial revolution
Iron Age
Korean War
Magna Carta
Melbourne Cup
Olympic Games, the Games, Sydney Olympic Games, the Sydney Olympics, the Olympics, Olympic symbols, 2008 Games
Paralympic Games, the Paralympics
September 11 (or 11 September if said by member)
Uruguay Round
World War II, the Second World War, the war, the two world wars

6.9 SPECIAL OCCASIONS

Use initial capital letters for recognised special times (the Macquarie Dictionary takes priority over other Hansard principles where there is a conflict).

Anzac Day
Ash Wednesday
Australia Day
Christmas Day
Good Friday
International Year for the World’s Indigenous People
Lent
New Year’s Day BUT new year (The Assembly will sit in the new year.)
Queen’s Birthday holiday
Ramadan
Senior Citizens Week
St Patrick’s Day
Yom Kippur
6.10 PLACE NAMES

Use initial capital letters for recognised geographical areas or when referring to a specific street, place, building et cetera, by name, but not when using the common noun thereafter as a substitute for a specific name.

- Australian Capital Territory, the territory
- Australian Alps National Park
- Badgerys Creek airport
- Batemans Bay, the bay
- Birdsville Track, the track
- Blundell’s cottage, the cottage
- Canberra International Airport
- Canberra Nature Park
- Casselden Place, the place
- Central Australia
- Central Coast
- Central Queensland
- Cobourg Peninsula, the peninsula
- Continent (of Europe but not others)
- Cooper Creek
- Coral Sea, the sea
- Cotter Dam
- Cunninghams Gap, the gap
- Dandenong Ranges, the ranges
- East Asia
- eastern Europe
- Eyre Peninsula
- Far East
- Far North (of Queensland), Far North Queensland
Fisheurns Bend
Fitzroy Crossing, the crossing
Googong Dam
Great Barrier Reef, barrier reef, the reef
Great Dividing Range, dividing range, the range
Gulf of Carpentaria, the gulf
Hume Highway, the highway
Jenolan Caves, the caves
Kakadu national park, the park
Latrobe (Tasmania), Latrobe River, Latrobe Valley
Lake George, the lake Lodge, the Manuka Oval
Molonglo Valley
Mrs Macquarie’s Chair, Mrs Macquarie’s Point
Namadgi National Park
Norfolk Island, the island
North Asia, North-East Asia
North Atlantic, the North Coast (of New South Wales)
North Head, South Head, the heads
North Shore (area of Sydney)
North West Cape
North West Shelf
Northern Australia
Northern Territory, the territory (disregard Macquarie Dictionary), territories
South Coast (of New South Wales)
Sydney Harbour, the harbour
Sydney Harbour Bridge, harbour bridge, the bridge
Sydney Harbour Tunnel, harbour tunnel, the tunnel
Sydney airport
Melbourne airport etc
Tidbinbilla nature reserve western Europe
Woden Valley

world heritage area, world heritage, World Heritage List, World Heritage listing (See Macquarie Dictionary).

A useful site for verifying Australian place names and geographical designations is http://www.ga.gov.au/map/names/

6.11 GROUPS OF PEOPLE

When groups of people and institutions are referred to in a collective sense follow the Macquarie Dictionary for capitalisation.

bar, the bench, the church, the (in the collective sense BUT the Uniting Church in Australia)

Establishment, the fourth estate, the press, the state, the (in a national sense or in the sense of a country considered as a political community)

6.12 ETHNIC AND RELIGIOUS GROUPS

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary capitalisation when referring to the name of an ethnic or religious group.

Aboriginal, Aboriginals, Aborigine, Aborigines (use whichever the member uses) for Australian Aborigines aboriginal, aboriginals, aborigine, aborigines (original inhabitants of any other country) (see Macquarie Dictionary)

Indigenous Australians (ie Aborigines/Torres Strait Islanders)
Arab(s)  Christian(s)  Jew(s)
Maori(s)  Muslim(s)

6.13 IDEOLOGIES

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary capitalisation when referring to an ideology. If the word does not appear in the dictionary, observe the following principles:

Use an initial capital letter when the name is derived from a person.

Fraserism  Leninist(ism)  McCarthyist(ism)
Reaganomics  Stalinist  Thatcherism

Use an initial lower case letter when the name is not derived from a person.

communist(ism)  dries  fascist(ism) green, greenies  socialist(ism)  tory wets

BUT

East, Eastern bloc
Nazi, Nazism
West, Western world
6.14 WORDS DERIVED FROM NAMES

This is one of those areas that are constantly evolving. We do not use an initial capital letter for common words derived from names. Some examples of where we conflict with the Macquarie Dictionary are shown below.

- anzac biscuit
- biro
- brazil nut
- brussels sprout
- chauvinistic
- christian name
- corriedale sheep
- doberman pinscher
- draconian
- french poodle
- french window
- freudian
- geiger counter
- german measles
- german shepherd
- iceland poppy
- machiavellian
- manila folder
- molotov cocktail
- morse code
- pap smear
- pekingese
- persian carpet/rug
- philistine
- platonic
- shanghai (kidnap, catapult)
- siamese cat/twins/fighting fish

Exceptions to this rule are names followed by an apostrophe and those including the contraction “St”.

- Alzheimer’s disease
- Abbott’s booby
- St Bernard dog
- Paterson’s curse
- Sturt’s desert pea

6.15 SCIENTIFIC TERMINOLOGY

Use an initial capital letter and italicise the genus name, but do not use an initial capital letter for the names of subspecies or species.

Macropus rufus, Eucalyptus tereticornis, Giardia monoleucus, Macropus rufus rufus

The generic name may thereafter be abbreviated to the initial capital, without a stop, and a space after the initial capital.

M rufus, E tereticornis, G monoleucus, M rufus rufus
For generic names that have become common names, use lower case (use the Macquarie Dictionary as a guide).

- banksia
- eucalyptus tree
- salmonella

The names of families and orders take initial capital letters and are not italicised.

- Candidae
- Carnivora

6.16 TRADEMARKS

An initial capital letter should generally be used when it can be established that it is a trademark or a proprietary name. This is sometimes a matter for editorial judgement. Note the following examples:

- Tip Top bread
- Shape milk
- Minties
- Omo
- Coca-Cola (if a point is being made about the company)/Coke
- Hills hoist

A capital letter should not be used for trademarks or proprietary names that have become part of the language. In this respect, be guided by the dictionary.

- bankcard, mastercard, visa
- biro
- diazepam
- esky
- laminex
- pyrex
- thermos
- valium
- vegemite
6.17 TITLES

6.17.1 BOOKS, POEMS, PLAYS, OPERAS, BALLETS, MUSICALS, FILMS, SONGS, WORKS OF ART, AND RADIO AND TELEVISION PROGRAMS

Initial capital letters and italics should be used for these items.

A Hard Day’s Night        A Tale of Two Cities        The Tempest

Blue Poles               Four Corners               The Barber of Seville

AM program

6.17.2 NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES

Initial capital letters and italics should be used for the titles of newspapers and magazines. Where the title begins with a definite or indefinite article, the article should not take an initial capital letter or be italicised.

the Age                  the Australian                the Sydney Morning Herald

6.17.3 DOCUMENTS, BOOKLETS, HANDBOOKS AND BROCHURES

Use minimal capitalisation. The first letter of the first word of the title and of those words that normally bear an initial capital should be capitalised. The title should be italicised.

The forgotten victims of crime: families of offenders and their silent sentence

Teaching in the ACT: shaping the future

Where titles contain more than one line, with no specified punctuation between them, the segments should be separated by colons. The title should be italicised.

The forgotten victims of crime: families of offenders and their silent sentence

Teaching in the ACT: shaping the future

6.17.4 COLLECTIONS AND EXHIBITIONS

Use initial capital letters for the names of art or photographic collections and exhibitions. They should also be italicised.

Surrealism by Night
(See also section 7.2 Books, poems, plays, reports, booklets, handbooks, brochures, operas, ballets, musicals, films, works of art, songs, collections, exhibitions, and radio and television programs)

6.18 SACRED WRITINGS

Use initial capital letters for the names of sacred writings and specific creeds, confessions of faith and prayers.

Apostles’ Creed               the Lord’s Prayer               the Bible
the Old Testament            the Koran                        the New Testament Ten Commandments             Proverbs                        II Chronicles 4:7

Revelation 22:21

6.19 CAPITALS ASSOCIATED WITH PUNCTUATION

6.19.1 HYPHENATED TITLES

In cases where an initial capital letter for the name of an organisation or a position title is followed by a major word after a hyphen, use an initial capital letter also for the word following the hyphen.

Pro-Vice-Chancellor
Vice-Chairman Smith, the vice-chairman
Vice-Chancellor Brown
Vice-President of the Executive Council, the vice-president

6.19.2 COLONS

Do not use a capital letter after a colon except when it is followed by an indented quotation in small font or quotation marks. A colon is not a terminal punctuation mark—ie a full stop.
7 ITALICS

This section provides guidance on when to use and when not to use italic font.

7.1 NAMES OF NEWSPAPERS OR PERIODICALS

Use italics for the titles of newspapers and periodicals. Note that a definite article preceding the title, even if it forms part of the title, should not be italicised. For example:

- Canberra Times, the
- CityNews
- Melbourne Age, the (name of city not part of title)
- Sydney Morning Herald, the (name of city part of title)

When the possessive “s” is added to an italicised name the “s” should not be italicised.

- the Australian’s critique

If possible, write around it: the critique in the Australian.

7.2 BOOKS, POEMS, PLAYS, REPORTS, BOOKLETS, HANDBOOKS, BROCHURES, OPERAS, BALLETS, MUSICALS, FILMS, WORKS OF ART, SONGS, COLLECTIONS, EXHIBITIONS AND RADIO AND TELEVISION PROGRAMS

These categories of works are italicised. Italicise the definite article if it is part of the title.

- A Tale of Two Cities
- AM
- Blue Poles
- Candle in the Wind
- Daily Hansard
- Four Corners
- Fowler’s Modern English Usage
- House of Representatives Practice
- official Weekly Hansard
- proof Daily Hansard report of the Standing Committee on Education entitled Youth employment: a working solution

Surrealism by Night

Swan Lake

The Gondoliers

Weekly Hansard

West Side Story

Yes, Minister

(See also section 6.17.4 Collections and Exhibitions)

7.3 LECTURES, ESSAYS, CHAPTERS OF BOOKS, MAGAZINE ARTICLES, SUBMISSIONS, PAPERS, NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

See also section 10.12 Quotation marks.

Use quotation marks, not italics, around the titles of lectures, essays, chapters of books, magazine articles, submissions, papers and newspaper headlines.

Yesterday’s Sydney Morning Herald front page article “Labor to win” contained some interesting information.

7.4 SCIENTIFIC NAMES

(See also section 6.15 Scientific Terminology)

Use italics for genus, species and subspecies names, with an initial capital letter for the genus name and lower case initial letter for the species name.

Macropus rufus, Eucalyptus tereticornis, Giardia monoleucus, Macropus rufus rufus, Delma impar, E coli

If a genus name is used generically it is not italicised (or shown with an initial capital letter).

eucalyptus, giardia

The names of families and orders take initial capital letters but are not italicised.

Candidae

Carnivora
7.5 SHIPS, AIRCRAFT AND TRAINS

Italicise the names of ships, aircraft, trains and the like. Note that the article before the name should not be italicised.

- Collins class submarine Farncomb
- Columbia space shuttle
- Daring class destroyer Voyager
- HMAS Cerberus
- HMAS Westralia
- Kingsford Smith’s Southern Cross
- Oriana, the
- Southern Aurora train
- USS Enterprise

BUT classes of ship and types of aircraft should not be italicised.

- Iwo Jima class amphibious assault ship
- Hercules aircraft

7.6 DESCRIPTIVE LINES NOT PART OF THE NORMAL PROCEDURE OR REPORTED SPEECH

Use italics to denote descriptive lines that do not form part of the normal procedure or the report of the spoken word. Please use autocorrects where available to minimise error.

(Time expired.) (autocorrect: tx) Note that no hard return need be inserted before this.

(Extension of time granted.) Note that no hard return need be inserted before or after this in the middle of a speech. (autocorrect: extt)

Members interjecting—(autocorrect: memsi)

Mr Jones interjecting—no specific autocorrect, so use memsi and modify to suit.

Opposition members interjecting—(autocorrect: omi)

(Quorum formed.) (autocorrect: qf) Note that no hard return need be inserted before or after this in the middle of a speech.

(Second speaking period taken.) (autocorrect: sspt) Note that no hard return need be inserted before or after this in the middle of a speech.

An incident having occurred in the gallery—(autocorrect: incgal)

The bells having been rung—

A video was then shown.

A PowerPoint presentation was then made.

Evidence was then taken in camera.

Slides were then shown.

If debate is interrupted:

At 6 pm, in accordance with standing order 34, the debate was interrupted. The motion for the adjournment of the Assembly having been put and negatived, the debate was resumed. (autocorrect: so34debr)

If there is no question before the chair:

At 6 pm, in accordance with standing order 34, the motion for the adjournment of the Assembly was put and negatived. (autocorrect: so34neg)

Refer to the Hansard Form Manual for further information on descriptive/form lines.

7.7 WHEN NOT TO USE ITALICS

Do not use italics to denote the following:

act titles

bill titles

foreign words and phrases names of statutes

names of court cases

headings of articles

names of properties

Italics should not be removed from material incorporated from the notice paper, eg motions, apart from the titles of committee reports. Do not remove italics, underlining or bolding from material incorporated from other sources.
8 LEGISLATIVE AND LEGAL TERMS

8.1 LEGISLATION

Bills and acts are formally structured. Bills contain clauses, subclauses, paragraphs and subparagraphs. Acts contain sections, subsections, paragraphs and subparagraphs (not clauses, subclauses et cetera).

8.1.1 BILLS

Use initial capital letters for the full correct title of a bill. Bill titles should be verified against the notice paper or at http://www.legislation.act.gov.au/b/default.asp. Do not italicise the titles of bills or acts.

The Land (Planning and Environment) Amendment Bill 2000 has been introduced ... The land planning bill ... This environment bill ...

In the case of appropriation bills (or budget bills), there are no initial capitals unless the full title of the bill is given. For example:

Appropriation Bill (No 1) 2013-2014 BUT appropriation bills

Bills usually contain clauses (eg clause 150A), subclauses (2), paragraphs (c) and subparagraphs (ii) and should be expressed by the greater element used. For example:

clause 105A(2)(c)(ii) (no spaces between clauses, subclauses et cetera)
subclause (2)(c)

If a member refers to a section or subsection as part of a bill, these terms should be changed to “clause” or “subclause”, but a member may correctly refer to a “proposed section” during debate on the clauses of a bill. Clause numbers should always be checked against the relevant bill(s).

Elements of bills are as shown in the following examples:

clause 150A clause 150A(2)(c)(iv)
division 1
item (in an amending schedule) paragraph (a) part I or part 1 (check bill)
preamble
schedule (first schedule et cetera) subclause (2)
8.1.2 Acts

Hansard does not italicise the full name of an act in text. Capitalisation of the full title of an act should follow that used in its proper title, even when the year of enactment is not included. If only part of the title is mentioned, no capitals are used (this follows Hansard’s standard capitalisation rule).

It is particularly important to adhere to the capitalisation rule when it is not clear which piece of legislation is being referred to by the speaker. Note the following examples:

Corporations Law (correct title, but it was repealed and replaced by the Corporations Act 2001)

Criminal Code, the code

Criminal Code Act

Freedom of Information Act 1989, the FOI Act

Land (Planning and Environment) Amendment Act 1994, the land act, the act

Legislative Assembly (Members’ Staff) Act 1989, the LA(MS) Act

section 88B(2) of the Workplace Relations Act self-government act—ie Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (commonwealth legislation)

Acts usually contain sections (eg section 73A), subsections (2), paragraphs (a) and subparagraphs (i). Sections should be expressed by the greater element used*. For example:

section 73A(2)(a)(i) subsection (2)(a)(i)

If a speaker refers to a clause or subclause as part of an act, the terminology should be changed to “section” or “subsection”. Section numbers should always be checked against the relevant act(s).

Elements of acts are shown in the following examples:

appendix 1
*The Office of Parliamentary Counsel’s drafting manual contains the following naming conventions:

- section 12
- subsection 12(1)
- paragraph 12(1)(a)
- subparagraph 12(1)(a)(ii)

Therefore, if a member says “subsection 12(1)”, for example, do not change it. However, it is still our responsibility to ensure that it is the correct section/subsection.

8.1.3 REGULATIONS

The full titles of regulations take initial capitals; part titles require no initial capitals. For the full correct titles of regulations, see the territory’s legislation register at http://www.legislation.act.gov.au/.
8.2 COURT CASES

Case titles should be written in full and should be checked, where possible. Use v (no stop) for “versus”, Anor (no stop) for “Another” and Ors (no stop) for “Others” in the names of court cases if said. (Case titles should not be italicised).

Carpenter & Anor v McGrath & Anor
Commonwealth v Mewett
Ha and Hammond v NSW
Kruger v the Commonwealth
Mann v O’Neill
Patrick Stevedores Operations No 2 Pty Ltd & Ors v Maritime Union of Australia & Ors
R v Richards; ex parte Fitzpatrick & Browne
Re Macks; Ex parte Saint; Re Macks; Ex parte Johnson

If the speaker says “and” instead of “v”, leave it as said, unless you are certain v is correct. Be careful not to confuse two parties united in an action against another party with two parties against one another.

Other examples of the way cases may be written are as follows:

Re the Residential Tenancies Tribunal of NSW and Henderson: ex parte the Defence Housing Authority

Mabo No 2

8.3 COURTS

All full titles of specific courts have initial capital letters. Follow the general principle of using initial lower case letters when only part of the title is used.

Children’s Court
Coroner’s Court
Family Court of Australia, the Family Court
Federal Court (or full Federal Court) of Australia, Federal Court
Magistrates Court
Supreme Court (or full court of the Supreme Court)
Reference to any of the above as “the court” also follows Hansard’s standard initial lower case letter principle.

High Court (or full bench of the High Court) of Australia, High Court (see also section 6.2 Names of Bodies).

8.4 COMMISSIONS AND TRIBUNALS

Full titles of commissions and tribunals require initial capital letters.

- Australian Human Rights Commission
- Australian Law Reform Commission
- Royal Commission of Inquiry into Drug Trafficking

BUT

- the royal commission into drug trafficking
- the royal commission

8.5 LEGAL TERMS AND OFFICE HOLDERS

The following is a guide to the use of initial capital and lower case letters for legal terminology and forms of address for legal office holders. For a list of federal courts and judges, see under “Courts and Judges” in the commonwealth Government Online Directory, accessible online at http://www.directory.gov.au/.

- Attorney-General, attorney, attorneys-general, A-G
- bar, the
- bench, the
- Chief Justice of the High Court of Australia, the chief justice
- Chief Justice French, the chief justice(s)
- Commissioner Fitzgerald, the commissioner(s), the royal commissioner(s)
- Crown, the (referring to sovereign or governing power)
- crown prosecutor
- Crown Solicitor, Deputy Crown Solicitor
- His Honour Judge Smith, His Honour, the judge
- Mr Jones QC (no comma)
- Mr Justice Smith or Smith J,* the justice(s), the judge(s)
Solicitor-General BUT solicitors-general

*Mr Justice X is used by some state superior courts and tribunals (in Victoria, Tasmania and Queensland). Justice X is used by federal courts (the Family Court, the Federal Court and the High Court), by tribunals and by South Australian superior courts. If in doubt, follow the forms of address provided in the Commonwealth Government Directory, accessible online at http://www.directory.gov.au.

Note that when a judge is addressed directly the title is shown in lower case, in the same way as when a minister is directly addressed in speech.

I ask you, judge, whether ...

(See also section 6.4 Titles of Positions)

9 NUMBERS

9.1 GENERAL RULES

9.1.1 ONE TO NINE

As a general rule, express numbers one to nine in words except when accompanied by a fraction. Numbers above nine are expressed in figures.

three people

8½ per cent BUT eight per cent (for ½: Alt 171 on numeric keyboard. Num Lock should be on)

50 people

The cargo included 120 sheep, 72 goats, 18 cows, one ox and five horses.

9.1.2 ORDINALS

Express first to ninth in words, thereafter use figures.

first eighth nth degree

10th

22nd

100th 156th

200th
9.1.3 NUMBERS FOLLOWING A NOUN

When a number follows a noun, use figures.

- grade 7, year 12
- stage 1 of federalism
- under-7s (noun and adjective)

BUT

- day one of the strike
- days one, two and three of the strike
- back to square one
- the number one swimmer
- five years time
- number one priority

9.1.4  THOUSANDS

Note the use of punctuation in thousands and above.

- $1,294
- 189,456 votes
- 4,589,293 people

BUT

- page 1802

(See also section 9.17 Thousands and Millions
9.2 SPECIFIC RULES

9.2.1 ADDRESSES

Show addresses as follows:

1 Sixth Avenue
10 Downing Street
Flat 8

Level 2
PO Box 4
22/146 Stowe Street

9.2.2 AGES

Follow general numbering rules when showing ages.

He died at the age of 55.

They had a nine-year-old son and a 15½-year-old daughter.

He was aged 4½ years.

She has a three-year-old.

She has an under-16-year-old child.

The baby is three months and 11 days old.

The over-50s have to pay more insurance.

This rule applies to people in their 40s and 50s.

People who are 70-plus should exercise daily.

9.2.3 BEGINNING SENTENCES

Use words at the beginning of sentences except where it would be unwieldy to do so.

Fifty per cent is not enough.

$560 million was spent in 2006.

2006 was the last good year for taxpayers.

At the beginning of short interjections use figures, as follows:

Mr Smith: $560 million?

Mr Jones: 2006 was a good year.
9.2.4 PERCENTAGES

Use words for full percentages from one to nine.

- one per cent BUT 1½ per cent (or 1.5 per cent, if said)
- 0.1 per cent
- between one and two per cent
- one or two per cent
- one-half of one per cent

Do not convert percentages to fractions or fractions to percentages.

- 5.5 per cent (if said) or 5½ per cent (if said)
- zero per cent (if said) or nought per cent (if said)

9.2.5 CLOCK TIME

Use figures when am or pm or the word “o’clock” follows the time; otherwise, follow general numbering rules.

- 10 am, 5 am, 10.06 am
- 5 am to 3 pm
- 5 pm to 8 pm, 9 pm to 8.45 am
- 1 o’clock
- half past six
- half past 11
- 12 minutes to seven
- 12 noon
- nine to five
- quarter to 12, quarter past four
- 2300 hours

When a time is shown for the commencement of a speech, use “am” if a speech occurs after midnight. Do not show “pm” at all.

MRS DUNNE (Ginninderra) (7.30):

MS LEE (Kurrajong) (1.05 am):
When a sitting is suspended do not show “am” or “pm” twice. However, if sitting is suspended from am to pm, show both.

Sitting suspended from 6.30 to 8 pm. (Heading 2 = Ctrl Alt 2)
Sitting suspended from 11 am to 2.30 pm. (Heading 2 = Ctrl Alt 2)

9.2.6 COMBINATION NUMBERS

When two numbers appear consecutively and one is used as an adjective, express one number in words and the other in figures. Try to show the larger number in figures.

seven 32-horsepower motors
two 10-minute tea breaks
10 four-piece lounge suites
250 ten-foot poles
15,000 to 20,000-tonne range

BUT numbers one to nine are expressed as words (see also section 9.1.1 One to nine).

four two-month periods

9.3 COMPOUND EXPRESSIONS

Follow general numbering rules when showing compound expressions.

one hour and 20 minutes three months and 11 days

9.3.1 CURRENCY

As a general rule, use figures and symbols to express amounts in currency. “Cent” is represented by the lower case “c”, without a full stop, set close up to the figure. Do not use “¢”. The dollar is represented by the dollar sign.

9.3.2 AMOUNTS IN Dollars IN WHICH THE AMOUNT IS LESS THAN ONE DOLLAR

If amounts are expressed as dollars, show them accordingly:

$0.25 $0.75
9.3.3 AMOUNTS IN DOLLARS AND CENTS WHEN CENTS ARE LESS THAN 10

$3.05 (NOT $3.5)

9.3.4 AMOUNTS IN CENTS

1c  5c  10c

56½c  99c  68.5c

BUT “They did not donate one cent.”

9.3.5 AMOUNTS IN EXACT DOLLARS

$1  $5  $10  $1,000

9.3.6 AMOUNTS IN DOLLARS AND CENTS

$1.05  $6.95  $55,996.20

9.3.7 AMOUNTS AT BEGINNING OF SENTENCES

Write out in full an amount of money appearing at the beginning of a sentence, except where to do so would be unwieldy—

Five dollars was the charge.

$65,400 was the true figure.

and in an interjection (see also section 9.2.3 Beginning Sentences)—

Mr Smith: $14,000?

9.3.8 THOUSANDS, MILLIONS, BILLIONS AND TRILLIONS (OF DOLLARS)

$1 million  $3½ million  $3.03 billion  $2.5 trillion  $8½ thousand
9.3.9 FOREIGN CURRENCY

The following examples—using figures—show how to distinguish between Australian dollars and foreign currency.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Country</th>
<th>Symbol</th>
<th>Amount 1</th>
<th>Amount 2</th>
<th>Amount 3</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Australia</td>
<td>$A</td>
<td>$A5</td>
<td>$A50</td>
<td>$A5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>USA</td>
<td>$US</td>
<td>$US5</td>
<td>$US50</td>
<td>$US5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Canada</td>
<td>$CAD</td>
<td>$CAD5</td>
<td>$CAD50</td>
<td>$CAD5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hong Kong</td>
<td>$HK</td>
<td>$HK5</td>
<td>$HK50</td>
<td>$HK5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malaysia</td>
<td>$M</td>
<td>$M5</td>
<td>$M50</td>
<td>$M5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Japan*</td>
<td>¥</td>
<td>¥5</td>
<td>¥50</td>
<td>¥5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UK (see below)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* For ¥, go to Insert, Symbol

Express United States and New Zealand cents as follows:

US25c  NZ60c

Express United Kingdom currency as follows:

6p     97p      £5,000    £1 million

£1.10 (NOT £1.10p)

The £ sign is created by going to “Insert”, clicking on “Symbol” and clicking on “£” (on the sixth line).

Euro

The euro sign is created by clicking on Ctrl+Alt+e.

€10    €10 million
9.3.10 FORMER AUSTRALIAN CURRENCY

Express as follows:

£9 8s 7d (no full stops) 5s 6d (NOT 5/6 or £0 5s 6d)

9.3.11 GENERAL USE OF CURRENCY

Follow the general numbering rules (see section 9.1.1 One to nine)

$19-odd million, $19 million plus between $1 million and $2 million (not between one and $2 million) 25 $10 notes a 5c piece
dollar-for-dollar basis
30.8c Australian (if other currencies are also mentioned)
10 cents in the dollar
$N on a $2-for-$1 basis one petrodollar and 10 petrodollars put value back in the dollar nearly $500,000 OR nearly half a million dollars (use whichever is said)
the $64 question
the $64,000 question
$X

9.4 DAYS AND DATES

(See also section 9.18 Years and spans of years.)

Use a hyphen (never an oblique stroke) between figures for spans of years. Give members what they say.

2007-08
1999-2000
However, in the name of an appropriation bill, expand the year when the full bill title is used.

Appropriation Bill (No 1) 2006-2007

Follow the general numbering rules when showing days and dates.

1 April 1965 (NOT 1st April 1965 or 1.4.65)
Monday, 8 June 2006
On 17 and 18 December he visited friends.
the first of the month
the first day of the month
the 11th day of the 11th month
When the date stands alone, use a figure with an ordinal ending.
Monday, the 8th (if said) (NOT 8th)
On the 22nd he left for overseas.

9.5 DECIMAL NUMBERS

When decimal numbers are less than unity, place a nought before the decimal point, except in some special instances such as calibre and blood alcohol levels.

0.25 (not .25) per cent .05 blood alcohol level .303 calibre

9.6 FRACTIONS

Isolated fractions up to one-hundredth are expressed in words using a hyphen.

half-hour
one-quarter of a million dollars one-third one thirty-third (avoid two hyphens) quarter-hour
two-thirds of the members

BUT

half a dozen half a million dollars (if said) 41 hundredths (compound numerator) one half of the flag is red; the other half black year and a half

When a fraction is combined with a whole number, use figures. For example:

They had a nine-year-old son and a 15½-year-old daughter.
He was aged 4½ years.
a performance lasting 2½ hours
I had a two to 2½-hour appointment.

9.7 HOURS AND MINUTES

Express hours and minutes as follows, following general rules relating to the use of words and numbers (See section 9.1 General rules).

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Description</th>
<th>Hours</th>
<th>Minutes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a half-hour break</td>
<td>0.5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>five minutes</td>
<td></td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3½ hours</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 hours</td>
<td></td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>one hour</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>one hour 20 minutes</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

9.8 IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS AND CALL SIGNS

Express identification numbers and call signs as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Identification Type</th>
<th>Example 1</th>
<th>Example 2</th>
<th>Example 3</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AAA rating</td>
<td>model 40</td>
<td>F111</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1800 and 0055</td>
<td>mark 2 version</td>
<td>Channel 7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>numbers</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Channel 4 (UK)</td>
<td>XXXX (brand name)</td>
<td>Channel 10</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Channel 9</td>
<td>World War II</td>
<td>Triple J</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>convention 96</td>
<td>SOGB</td>
<td>Triple M</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Imparja</td>
<td>Prime Minister’s XI</td>
<td>Henry VIII</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
2CN RRR award amendment 12 (or No 12; give the member what was said)

Highway 1 ASO6

BUT:

Seven Network Nine Network Ten Network

9.9 INDEFINITE NUMBERS

Express indefinite numbers as follows:

- We have a fifty-fifty chance of winning
- I have told you a hundred times BUT I have told you 100 (ie one hundred) times (if said)
- minus two per cent
- number one grower of apples
- 60 per cent plus
- 101 different ways

9.10 LISTS

When listing points, try to be consistent:

- first, second, third
- first, secondly, thirdly
- firstly, secondly, thirdly
- (1), (2), (3)
- (a), (b), (c)

(1), (2), (3) or (a), (b) or (c) may be used to start sentences in dot points. Dot points may be used in speeches. Generate dot points using the Hansard template style (it is not possible to do this in indented quotations).
9.11 MEASUREMENTS

For dimensions, temperatures, weights, distances, speeds, fluid measures, electrical measures and angles, follow the general rules relating to the use of words and numbers (see section 9.1 General rules).

- five tonnes
- an angle of 45 degrees
- nine knots
- six kilograms
- temperature of eight degrees
- two litres
- 12 grams
- a room 10 metres by four metres
- 2½ litres
- 30 metres
- a 12-volt battery
- 20 degrees Celsius

9.12 PARTS OF BOOKS, REPORTS ET CETERA

The use of Arabic or Roman figures is acceptable, depending on the source. Follow source if possible.

- page 1
- table 6
- chapter 6
- paragraph 9
- part 4
- section 6
- appendix 2
- page (ii)
- chapter X

9.13 RATIOS

Numerals linked by a colon are used to express scale (the representation of very large units by very small units) as in 1:500,000 to represent distances on a map where one centimetre represents five kilometres. In all other cases, where a scale is not involved, separate the elements with the word “to” using the general rules governing the use of numbers and words (see section 9.1 General rules).

- 1:100,000
- 12 to one
- a two to one multiplier
- one for one
- one to one

The correct ratio of rice to water is one to three.

The typical ratio is one to 100.
The book industry uses a 70 to 30 ratio.

BUT

- 20/20 vision
- 60-40 rule
- dollar-for-dollar basis
- $2-for-$1 basis
- a fifty-fifty chance
- a fifty-fifty mixture
- The council vote was split 60-40.
- We are part of the child-staff ratio.

(see also Macquarie Dictionary)

9.14 RESULTS AND SCORES

Express results and scores as follows:

- The game resulted in a 14-0 win to the Brumbies. (if said this way)
- Australia beat New Zealand three to one. (if said this way)
- The High Court brought down a majority judgement of 4-3.
- Bernard Tomic won the match 6-2, 6-4, 6-7, 7-6.
- The council vote was split 6-4. (if said this way)

9.15 ROMAN NUMERALS

Some examples of the use of Roman numerals are set out below.

- Elizabeth II
- George V
- World War II
- part IV
- II Corinthians
9.16 SIZES

Express sizes as follows:

- a size 4 ball
- a size 7½ hat

9.17 THOUSANDS AND MILLIONS

Note the use of punctuation in thousands and above in the following examples:

- 1,000
- 3,125,000
- 3.1 million
- $5,000
- BUT: page 1423

Numbers of a million or more are expressed following the general rules on the use of words and numbers (see section 9.1 General rules).

- 1½ million people or 1.5 million people (whatever is said)
- $2 million, $2 billion, $2 trillion
- tens of thousands of people
- three-quarters of a million trees
- two million people

(See also section 9.1.4 Thousands.)

9.18 YEARS AND SPANS OF YEARS

See also section 9.4 Days and Dates)

Follow the general rules relating to the use of words and numbers when showing years and spans of years (see section 9.1 General rules).

- AD 55 or 55 AD, 50 BC, 56-55 BC
- 4½ years
- from 1982 to 1986
- in 1999-2000
in 2009-10
in 10 years time in a year’s time (see also section 10.1 Apostrophe) mid-1980s, mid-80s
post-1980s phenomenon the 1960s, the 60s
the 1914-18 war
the Labor government of 1972-75
the 21st century
20 to 24 years (not 20-24 years)
one day’s time
The Labor Party was in power post 1990.

BUT

the class of ’83
one week’s time

In titles use dates as they are represented in the title.

10 PUNCTUATION

The main function of punctuation is to make the meaning of the spoken word clear when rendered as the written word. In an era when it is necessary to produce Hansard transcripts that are as close as possible to the spoken word, simultaneously grammatically correct yet preserving the nuance and flavour of what was said, skilful punctuation is one of the most important tools available to editors.

It is not always possible or desirable to impose definitive rules on the use of punctuation. The prevention of ambiguity, the length of a sentence, the amount of pause required and the particular context are factors that will determine the use of punctuation.

However, as punctuation is largely the creature of syntax and grammar, there are established guiding principles that should be followed in reporting and editing.

10.1 APOSTROPHE

The purpose of inserting an apostrophe before or after the final s is to indicate the possessive case. It has nothing to do with the formation of the plural. Note the following usage.
10.1.1 Nouns and Indefinite Pronouns

Use apostrophe s to form the possessive for nouns or indefinite pronouns in the singular or plural that end in any letter except s.

- the minister’s office
- the mice’s food
- the gentlemen’s hats
- the people’s war
- for heaven’s sake
- anyone’s guess
- one’s rights
- somebody else’s book

10.1.2 Plural Nouns

Use an apostrophe after the s for plural nouns that end in s.

- the riders’ mounts
- the ladies’ dresses

Plural nouns that do not end in s take apostrophe s.

- women’s affairs
- children’s hospital
- Federated Engine Drivers and Firemen’s Association of Australasia
- Women’s Electoral Lobby

10.1.3 Singular Nouns Ending in s

For singular nouns that end in s, in all cases, add an apostrophe after the s, just as is done with singular nouns ending in other letters.

- Burns’s poems
- Dickens’s novels
- Griffiths’s views
- Jesus’s teachings
- the boss’s office
- Mrs Cross’s speech
- Menzies’s term
- Hargreaves’s notes
10.1.4 WHERE POSSESSION IS NOT DEFINED

An apostrophe is not used either before or after the s where the idea of possession is tenuous and the term is adjectival.

drivers licence  visitors book  premiers conference sports coat  workers compensation  savings accounts

sales representatives  a teachers training college  Sydney Boys High School two weeks pay  Australian Workers Union  three days rest six months time  a day’s time

BUT St Paul’s Cathedral, the King’s School and other exceptions as listed in the Macquarie Dictionary.

Note that when the sense is clearly possessive the apostrophe should be used. Compare the following sentences:

The Queen wrote her name in the visitors book.

The visitor’s book was stolen from his bedroom.

10.1.5 GEOGRAPHICAL TERMS

Geographical terms do not take apostrophe s.

Badgerys Creek  Frenchs Forest  Kings Cross  St Albans

Batemans Bay

10.1.6 APOSTROPHES IN CONTRACTIONS

(See also section 4.4 Contractions.

Use an apostrophe to indicate the omission of letters in contractions.

do not  don’t  it is  it’s

BUT note that an apostrophe is not used in “its” when used to denote the possessive case.
The government handed down its budget.

10.1.7 NON-WORD PLURALS

Use an apostrophe to avoid confusion in such expressions as:

dot the i’s and cross the t’s  mind your p’s and q’s

Do not use an apostrophe in the following cases:

all As       the three Rs   ifs and buts
the 1970s    ayes            all the year 5s

The possessive of an abbreviation is formed in the same way as the possessive of a noun or pronoun.

BHP’s mines  the ALP’s policies  the USA’s borders

10.2 BRACKETS

Brackets may be used for company names, titles of acts and public service positions, as follows:

Argus Real Estate (Holdings) Pty Ltd
LA(MS) Act

Brackets, round or square, should not be used elsewhere in Hansard text. However, brackets appearing in quotations or indented material should be left in. Any interpolation of a speaker into quoted, indented material should be put back to the margin.

MR SMITH: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm—

and I cannot imagine why it would not—in its backing of the proposal (dated December) and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

10.3 COLON

The colon can also be used to introduce quotations or to preface a quotation or statement. A capital letter does not follow a colon except where the word following the colon is a proper noun or as set out in section 8.3.3. The use of the colon should generally be restricted to the following situations:
10.3.1 INTRODUCING LISTS, QUOTATIONS ET CETERA

Use a colon to separate a clause that introduces a list, quotation, summary or corollary from the actual list et cetera.

This country has few exports: wool, wheat, coal and timber.

BUT

This country’s exports are wool, wheat, coal and timber.

10.3.2 INTRODUCING A STATEMENT

Use a colon to introduce a statement which explains, enlarges or summarises the one that precedes it when no conjunction is used.

In business there is something more than barter, exchange, price, payment: there is the sacred faith of man in man.

10.3.3 PREFACING DIRECT SPEECH OR QUOTATIONS

Use a colon to preface a passage of direct speech or a quotation which is more formal or elaborate than a conversational quotation.

The Prime Minister addressed them in these words: “We have been called upon to undertake a very difficult and dangerous task.”

I ask the minister: what are we doing now?

Use a colon to preface material quoted by a speaker, which then appears below in small font.

MR SMITH: I refer you to Minister Gallagher, who said:

By 2001, no bus services will run late.

Note: ensure that the colon after bolded side name is not in bold.

10.3.4 TITLES AND SUBTITLES

Use a colon to indicate a change from title to subtitle or from heading to subheading, where no punctuation marks already appear and it is appropriate, as in newspaper headlines, book titles, report titles et cetera.

The headline was “The big chill: towns cut off by snow”.

The report was entitled The people’s palace: parliament in modern Australia.

The report was entitled Ringing in the changes: Telecom’s zonal charging policies.

Page 78 of 101
10.4 COMMAS

Commas have a grammatical function in separating words, phrases and clauses. They also give emphasis, meaning and clarity to sentences. Thus they are an essential aid to the reader and a vital tool for the editor.

10.4.1 BETWEEN ADJECTIVES

Use commas to mark off two or more adjectives that qualify the same noun if the effect of their use is cumulative or if each adjective qualifies the noun separately.

She was a quiet, gentle, compassionate woman.

Do not use commas if the first adjective qualifies the second adjective when used in conjunction with their noun:

There was a distinguished foreign visitor in the house.

The only wealthy man in the district was the local doctor.

10.4.2 INTRODUCTORY ADVERBIAL CLAUSES

Generally, use a comma to mark off an introductory adverbial clause.

If there is no substance to the rumour, the minister should say so.

As members would be aware, this is a federal responsibility.

When we introduced this reform last year, it was opposed by the Liberal Party.

If the minister can, will he do so?

An introductory adverbial phrase is sometimes marked off with a comma and sometimes not. A choice about whether to use the comma will be influenced by such things as nuance, clarity, length of the phrase and other punctuation in the sentence.

In this context you may not want a comma.

On the other hand, you may be inclined to use one in this sentence.

If so, you have made an informed choice.

In the evening, paper lanterns lit the courtyard.

In 1993 we handled 1,990 cases.

In 1993, 1,990 cases came to our attention.
10.4.3 Adverbs, Adverbial Phrases and Clauses Within Sentences

When using commas to mark off adverbs, adverbial phrases and adverbial clauses in the middle of a sentence, use them in pairs—one at the beginning and one at the end. One comma is not sufficient.

In a simple sentence:

- It was, fortunately, a success.
- It was, in my opinion, a success.
- It was, as everyone knows, a success.

Following a coordinating conjunction in a compound sentence:

- We tried hard and, fortunately, we made a success of it.
- We tried hard and, in my opinion, we made a success of it.
- We tried hard and, as everyone knows, we made a success of it.

Following a subordinating conjunction in a complex sentence:

(i) Subordinating to an adjectival clause:

- I went to a shop where, fortunately, I was able to buy the item I wanted.
- I went to a shop where, in my opinion, customers get good service.
- I went to a shop where, as everyone knows, customers get good service.

(ii) Subordinating to an adverbial clause:

- I was able to meet the deadline because, fortunately, I had good help.
- I was able to meet the deadline because, in my opinion, I had good help.
- I was able to meet the deadline because, as everyone knows, I had good help.

(iii) Subordinating to a noun clause:

- I can tell you that, fortunately, we did it correctly.
- I can tell you that, in my opinion, we did it correctly.
- I can tell you that, as everyone knows, we did it correctly.

This also holds true for any parenthetic element.

10.4.4 When Linked by Conjunction

Generally, use a comma between clauses linked by coordinate conjunctions, particularly when the subject of each clause is stated.
I have seen that movie, but I did not like it very much.

Let us make the most of today, for tomorrow may never come.

If the clauses are short and closely related, and if no ambiguity arises, a comma before the conjunction may not be necessary.

It began to snow and I became very cold.

I saw the football game and I enjoyed it.

Do not use a comma if the second clause has no stated subject.

She fell over and hit her head.

His manner was polite but not condescending.

10.4.5 Defining and non-defining relative clauses

The insertion or omission of a comma before a relative (or adjectival) clause is necessary to inform the reader whether that clause is defining or non-defining.

If the relative clause defines—that is, contains information which is an essential part of the meaning of the sentence—it should not be marked off with commas (and should be introduced with “that” or “who”).

She bought the jewellery that pleased her.

The John Smith who joined the department last week is no relation to the John Smith who will be 65 next year.

Use commas to mark off non-defining relative clauses—that is, a clause that adds a new point to the main clause that is not essential to the sense of the sentence. For example:

She bought the jewellery, which pleased her.

John Smith, who will be 65 next year, has been with the department for 30 years.

10.4.6 Names or titles of persons

Use commas to mark off the names or titles of persons addressed.

I wish to inform you, sir, that I will be absent from the chamber.

Your ruling, Mr Speaker, is acceptable to me.

Well done, sir.

10.4.7 Defining and non-defining phrases

Commas should be used to mark a non-defining or non-restrictive phrase, that is, one that provides incidental information, as in the following example:
The Minister for Urban Services, a large, bald man, was not in the chamber when this bill was debated previously.

In this example, the phrase “a large, bald man” is incidental detail, and should be marked with commas.

Defining words or phrases, that is, words or phrases that are essential to the meaning of a phrase, clause or sentence, are not marked off by commas, as in the following example:

John Howard the actor should not be confused with John Howard the politician.

There are lots of John Howards; the words “actor” and “politician” define which John Howard is being referred to.

Note the use of commas in the following examples:

My brother Andrew is a member of parliament.

In this example, the absence of commas before and after “Andrew” indicates that the speaker has more than one brother. Whereas a sentence reading:

My brother, Andrew, is a member of parliament.

would indicate that the speaker has only one brother.

Thus “My wife Maria has been elected to parliament”, based on the punctuation, indicates that the speaker has more than one wife but he is talking about this particular one.

Equally, the sentence “My colleague, the housing minister, promised a review” indicates that the speaker has only one colleague. As both of these situations are unlikely, the use of commas in these two sentences is incorrect.

10.4.8 OMISSION OF WORDS

Use commas to indicate the omission of one or more words common to two parts of a sentence.

In 1953 there were 14 applications; in 1954, 27; and in 1955, 10.

10.4.9 PARTICIPLES AND PARTICIPLE PHRASES

Participles and participle phrases that have an adjectival function are generally marked off by commas, regardless of where they occur in a sentence.

Stunned, I was unable to speak.

Smiling, she turned to the next applicant.

Stopped by the policemen, she protested her innocence.

She turned around and, replying to me, said that she did not know the answer.

He resigned from his position, having tired of the long hours.
A participle phrase that has its own subject (the absolute construction) is always marked off by commas. Note that in the absolute construction the subject is not separated from the participle by a comma.

- The Hansard editors having completed the transcript, their day was finished.
- The Hansard editors, having finished their transcript, had finished for the day.
- The Hansard editors, their transcript completed, had finished for the day.

Participles and participle phrases that have a verb function are not marked off by commas.

- I saw my friend stopped by the policeman.
- I was stunned by the answer.

10.4.10 HONORARY TITLES OR DEGREES

Commas should not be used to separate names from titles or degrees but should be used to separate multiple titles or degrees. For example:

- Mr Jones QC represented the accused.
- Mr Jones AO, QC, MP

10.4.11 CLARIFYING GROUPS OF WORDS OR NUMBERS

Use commas to separate words or numbers that might be misunderstood.

- The general said that, in 1986, 563 more men would be needed.

10.4.12 USE WITH “AND”, “OR”

When a series of items separated by commas concludes with an “and” or “or” before the final item, do not place a comma before the final “and” or “or”.

- He opened the letter, read it and made a note of its contents.
- The balloons were pink, red or maroon.

If any ambiguity is likely to arise, place a comma before the final item.

- The shops involved were Myer, David Jones, Marks and Spencer, and Woolworths.

10.4.13 AMBIGUITIES WITH SINGLE WORDS OR SHORT PHRASES

Careful use or non-use of commas is necessary to avoid ambiguity or momentary misunderstanding with certain single words or short phrases—for example, “however”, “no doubt”, “meanwhile”, “too” et cetera.
Note the distinctions in the following sentences:

However his attitude may be interpreted, he failed to solve the problem.

However, his attitude may be interpreted as being indicative of the general view.

His attitude, however, may be interpreted as being indicative of the general view.

No doubt the inclement weather had much to do with the cancellation.

She considered, no doubt, that the inclement weather had caused the cancellation.

10.5 DASH

10.5.1 PARENTHEtical statements

Use a dash (em rule)* to mark off a parenthetical statement.

His excuse—and I must say that I think it is a very lame one; time alone will tell—is that he did not know he had to pay income tax.

The Treasurer—or was it the Minister for Urban Services?—told us so.

*Em rules are generated using Ctrl+Alt+the dash on the numeric keypad. There should be no space before or after an em rule.

10.5.2 CHANGE IN THE STRUCTURE OF A SENTENCE

Use a dash to mark an abrupt change in the structure of a sentence.

I went to Rome to see the churches, to Paris to look at the galleries, to Vienna to hear the opera—but I must be boring you with this account of my travels, and will stop now.

10.5.3 LONG LISTS IN SENTENCES

Use a dash to gather up the subject or object of a sentence which consists of a long list. For example:

An unbroken view of the bay with its sweep of battered cliffs, a secluded beach, acres of unspoiled bushland, the ease of constructing an access road and the short distance between Sydney and the site—all these made this a perfect place to build the motel.
10.5.4 DRAMATIC EFFECT

Use a dash to introduce a statement with greater dramatic effect.

When I was a boy my conduct was shaped by two simple principles—my father’s word was law, and a child’s first duty was unquestioning obedience.

It is also acceptable to use a colon in this instance.

10.5.5 INTERRUPTIONS

Use a dash to indicate that a speaker has been interrupted.

Mr Jones: Mr Speaker, I draw your attention—

MR SPEAKER: Order! The member will resume his seat.

10.5.6 INTERPOLATIONS

Use a dash to indicate an interpolation within a sentence in quoted, indented material.

MR SMITH: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm—

and I cannot imagine why it would not—

in its backing of the proposal (dated December) and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

Do not use a dash, either with a colon or alone, to introduce lists or indented quotations. Use a colon alone.

10.6 ELLIPSIS

Use an ellipsis (three dots) to indicate omitted material.

There are two ways to insert an ellipsis: Alt+Ctrl+. or via Insert, Symbol, Special characters, ellipsis.

There should be a hard space before and after the ellipsis. This applies wherever the ellipsis occurs, including where a sentence ends with an ellipsis and a punctuation mark other than a full stop—ie exclamation mark, question mark. In the case of both definitive end sentences (ones ending with a terminal punctuation mark) and sentences that trail off rather than end definitively, use only the ellipsis preceded by a space.

Use Ctrl+Shift+space to create a hard space.

Boys are often eager to leave home. Few realise until too late ...
10.6.1 OMISSION OF WORDS

Use an ellipsis to indicate the omission of words at the commencement, in the middle or at the end of an indented quotation. For example:

The minister said, inter alia:

... the government will do everything possible ... to remedy the problem ...

However, nothing has been done.

10.6.2 OMISSION OF PARAGRAPHS

Use an ellipsis to indicate the omission of a paragraph or paragraphs from indented quotations.

Single engine operations are presently being conducted from Darling Harbour ... In conclusion, I say without hesitation that the site is unsuitable for consideration as a city heliport.

10.7 EXCLAMATION MARK

10.7.1 TRUE EXCLAMATIONS

Use an exclamation mark to indicate true exclamations.

MR SMITH: Did the government lower interest rates?

Opposition members: No!

10.7.2 COMMON PARLIAMENTARY TERMS AND INTERJECTIONS

An exclamation mark is used after terms such as “Order!”, “Hear, hear!” and interjections such as “Oh!”

Exclamation marks must be used very sparingly—and never use more than one at a time. Bear in mind the Commonwealth Style Manual: the effect of an exclamation mark is lost if it is overused, and most readers find the repetition irritating.

10.7.3 IRONY OR SARCASM

An exclamation mark may also be used to indicate irony and sarcasm. For instance, if a member of the Liberal Party says, “Of course I support everything the Labor Party does!” an exclamation mark is necessary to show that this is irony.

10.7.4 EXCLAMATORY QUESTIONS

An exclamation mark is also used after exclamatory questions.

How dare you say a thing like that!
10.8 HYPHEN

Hyphenation can be a useful tool, but when using hyphens keep in mind three principles:

- strive for clarity;
- do not use unnecessary hyphenation (remember Fowler’s advice against over-hyphenation: “Hyphening should not become burdensome.”); and
- where possible, follow established usage, as per the guidelines set out below.

10.8.1 COMPOUND WORDS IN MACQUARIE DICTIONARY

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary as to whether a compound word is set separate, set solid or hyphenated.

10.8.2 COMPOUND WORDS NOT IN MACQUARIE DICTIONARY

We follow the Macquarie Dictionary. The modern trend is to hyphenate only to avoid obvious ambiguity.

If the Macquarie Dictionary or the Hansard determinations below do not provide a ruling, assess the phrase for ambiguity. If there is glaring ambiguity, hyphenate to show meaningful clusters of words. Where the meaning is clear, avoid hyphenation. Do not use hyphens if the words are used in normal sequence and are really just a series of nouns. For example:

- national infant immunisation program
- flood control study are unambiguous enough to require no hyphenation; whereas

- Hewson-led reforms of tax
- woman-hating religion
- first homebuyer
- first home owner
- first home owner grant

require hyphenation in order to facilitate understanding and readability and to avoid any possible misreading. In many cases, the use or non-use of hyphens depends on the immediate context.

10.8.3 POSSIBLE CONFUSION OR AWKWARDNESS

When the word formed would otherwise be confused with another word, use a hyphen.

- re-cover (cover again)     recover (regain) re-form (form again) reform (remove abuses)

re-sign (sign again) resign (give up)

coop and coop un-ionised and unionised

Use a hyphen to avoid an awkward juxtaposition of letters.

re-enter semi-invalid self-fulfilling dee-emphasise

10.8.4 Compound Nouns

Follow the Macquarie Dictionary for hyphenation of compound nouns. If the Macquarie Dictionary does not give a ruling, use two words.

airfare mind shift hand tools

10.8.5 Compound Adjectives

Again, follow the Macquarie Dictionary. If there is no ruling in the Macquarie Dictionary follow the style below.

Hyphenate compound adjectives consisting of an adjective and a noun.

cost-effective proposal medium-density housing full-time students smoke-free environment part-time job long-term planning (BUT longer term approach) triple-bottom-line reporting

Hyphenate compound adjectives that end in a participle.

well-known person drug-related crime

Stanhope-led government school-based management purpose-built housing  broad-ranging debate law-abiding citizen  owned corporations
(BUT Territory-owned Corporations Act 1990)

Hyphenate compound adjectives that contain a short phrase.

out-of-order petition  fee-for-service operation up-to-date information  state-of-the-art facilities point-of-sale restrictions  on-the-spot fines four-wheel-drive vehicle  not-for-profit company whole-of-government approach  no-confidence motion

Hyphenate compound adjectives containing a preposition/adverb.

in-principle decision  flow-on consequences after-school hours  sobering-up experience up-front payment  move-on powers at-risk children  decision-making body (BUT decision making)

Hyphenate compound adjectives that contain nouns of equal value.

cost-benefit analysis  criminal-civil system commonwealth-state relations  debt-equity ratio Hare-Clark system  Mant-Collins report win-win situation  employer-employee relations

Hyphenate compound adjectives that indicate a range.
2013-14 financial year Bathurst-Albury-Melbourne run

Sydney-Canberra rail link

10.8.6 BASE WORDS BEGINNING WITH A CAPITAL LETTER

Hyphenate base words beginning with a capital letter.

mid-Victorian neo-Gothic anti-American un-Australian

10.8.7 SINGLE LETTER USED WITH A WORD

Use a hyphen when a single letter is used with a word.

A-bomb B-grade D-notice
e-banking email G-clamp
H-bomb J-curve L-shaped
R-rated S-bend T-shirt
U-boat X-rated Y-plan

10.8.8 PREFIX

Use a hyphen when the prefix is not usually set solid with the main word, as with “mid”, “non”, “post”, “pre”, “pro” and “self”.

non-alignment pro-government mid-term

self-righteous

Also note that “anti”, “post”, “pre” and “pro” can be used as stand-alone prepositions.

She lived pre the gold rushes.
Post the American Civil War there was chaos in the South.
Hansard sets some prefixes solid. These are listed at section 10.8.13 When not to use a hyphen.

10.8.9 NUMBERS AND QUANTITIES

Use hyphens with numbers and quantities, and in compounds where the first element is a number and the second is a noun.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Example</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a one-third share 600</td>
<td>700-square buildings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a 40-hour week 12-month review (BUT a 12-month review)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mid-2007 one 30-centimetre ruler</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a two-party accord 24-hour service</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a two-party agreement two-party preferred vote</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

10.8.10 ADJECTIVAL COMBINATIONS OF COLOURS

Use hyphens in adjectival combinations of colours.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Example</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a blue-grey haze black-and-white copies blue-green algae</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Hyphenate compound designations.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Example</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Auditor-General commercial-in-confidence fit-out</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>for-profit not-for-profit non-Anglo Saxon</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>free-to-air TV non-fee-charging agents risk-return</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>non-English-speaking background</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

10.8.11 FINANCIAL YEAR OR A SPAN OF YEARS

Hyphenate to show a financial year or a span of years.

- 2007-08 [not 2007/08]
- 1914-18 war
10.8.12 WHEN NOT TO USE A HYphen

Do not use a hyphen in the following instances:

When a compound adjective appears after the noun it describes (predicative use of adjective as opposed to attributive use).

- This fact is well known BUT a well-known fact, a very well-known fact.
- My colleague now works part time BUT she is a part-time worker
- The approach was rather broad brush BUT a broadbrush approach
- The criticism was well intended BUT well-intended criticism
- Channel 10 goes free to air BUT free-to-air TV

BUT

- publicly owned company (adverbial compounds ending in ly do not usually take a hyphen)
- comparatives (less travelled way) and superlatives (best known writer) are not usually hyphenated.

When letters and numbers appear together.

- FA18 F111 SS20
- ASO6 AS2801 (Australian standard)

Compounds with the following prefixes are generally set solid:

- aero, after, ante, anti, astro
- auto, bi, bio, chemo, co
- counter, demi, di, electro, endo
- exo, extra, geo, hemi, haemo
- hyper, hypo, in, infra, inter
- intra, iso, macro, maxi, meta micro milli mini mono multi over para photo physio phyto poly pseudo psycho re stereo sub super semi supra tri trans ultra un under

For prefixes requiring a hyphen, see section 10.8.8 When a prefix is used.

10.9 OBLIQUE STROKE

Use the oblique stroke to separate equal alternatives (when the words apply to the same entity).

he/she win/lose and/or yes/no either/or purchaser/provider

BUT

Hall-Kinlyside win-win
2004-05 (NOT 2004/05)

10.10 PARAGRAPHING

Text should be broken up into paragraphs of reasonable length. While it is up to the editor to judge what is “reasonable”, it should be remembered that paragraphs help to keep the attention of the reader engaged, an aim less easily achieved with very long paragraphs or very short ones.

With this in mind, where possible, break lengthy paragraphs into smaller ones but avoid short one-sentence paragraphs unless there is a clear change of subject matter. Paragraphing is not, however, primarily a matter of size. Paragraphs should indicate some kind of logical break in continuity between pieces of text—either a change in subject matter or a shift in emphasis.

Questions without notice may be paragraphed. Answers to questions without notice may be paragraphed, as may answers given by witnesses appearing before parliamentary committees.
10.11 QUESTION MARK

A question mark is used at the end of a sentence or parenthetical clause that asks a direct question.

How many pages will be needed?

The Treasurer—or was it the Chief Minister?—told us so.

It is not used after an indirect or reported question.

He asked whether we should still do it.

He asked how many pages would be needed.

It is not used after a statement that is a request rather than a question.

Can I stop you there for a second.

Would you please let me know the answer as soon as possible.

Will the member please resume his seat.

Might I say that he was speaking off the cuff.

For the record, will you state your name and the capacity in which you appear.

Sometimes the tone of voice may turn a statement into a question.

You really saw it?

If possible, avoid interrogative sentences that end with a passage in small font. Such sentences are better rewritten. For example:

Does the minister agree that in the Australian of today’s date the following statement appeared:

The Chief Minister has indicated that he will vote against the bill.

would be better rendered:

I ask the minister whether he agrees that the following statement appeared in the Australian of today’s date:

The Chief Minister has indicated that he will vote against the bill.

10.12 QUOTATION MARKS

Hansard uses double quotation marks and single quotation marks within double quotations marks.

10.12.1 NEWSPAPERS, HEADLINES, ARTICLES, ESSAYS AND LECTURES

Use double quotation marks around newspaper headlines, the titles of articles, essays and lectures (see also section 7 Italic).
The essay was entitled “On the origin of the dinosaurs”.

In an article entitled “Dogs ravage teenager”, John Smith claimed ...

The headline in the Daily Telegraph was “An act of war”.

10.12.2 TECHNICAL TERMS, COLLOQUIAL, HUMOROUS OR SLANG WORDS

Use double quotation marks to indicate technical terms in non-technical writing, colloquial words in formal writing, nicknames, slang and coined or humorous words the first time they are mentioned.

Sir Edward “Weary” Dunlop BUT Weary was a great Australian; Weary Dunlop was a great Australian.

Don Chipp said he would “keep the bastards honest”.

10.12.3 MISCELLANEOUS

The following situations also require the use of double quotation marks:

- when a member indicates that certain words are to be enclosed in quotation marks;
- to enclose the quoted words of a writer or speaker (unless these are indented—see section 11.2.2 Formatting of indented text); and
- to mark off a term, for example: the word “mark”.

Use single quotation marks only for quoted material within a quotation and if they are used in indented text.

10.13 SEMICOLON

The semicolon indicates a pause or degree of separation greater than is marked by the comma but less than would justify a full stop.

10.13.1 SINGLE SENTENCE FROM TWO OR MORE CLAUSES

Use a semicolon to form a single compound sentence from two or more shorter, grammatically complete sentences not joined by a conjunction.

It is nearly half past six; we cannot reach town before dark.
10.13.2 BEFORE A CONJUNCTION

Use a semicolon before a conjunction or generally in a context that requires a slightly more pronounced pause:

When they reached the frontier, they were deprived of their tickets, their passports and their heavy luggage; so there they had to stay.

He is a sick man; nevertheless he remains cheerful.

10.13.3 SEPARATING CLAUSES OR PHRASES

Use a semicolon to separate clauses or phrases that already contain commas.

The practice of medicine is an art, not a trade; a calling, not a business; a calling in which your heart will be exercised equally with your head.

The rate of inflation for Australia is 10 per cent; West Germany, six per cent; Japan, four per cent; and Korea, two per cent.

10.13.4 SEPARATING PARALLEL CLAUSES

Use a semicolon to separate parallel clauses, instead of joining them with a conjunction.

To be poor and not complain is difficult; to be rich and not arrogant is easy; to be neither is the fate of most.

11 QUOTATIONS

Three types of quotations are dealt with in this section:

- incomplete quotations and short complete quotations;
- longer direct quotations; and
- indirect quotations.

11.1 INCOMPLETE QUOTATIONS AND SHORT COMPLETE QUOTATIONS

11.1.1 INCOMPLETE QUOTATIONS

Do not use an introductory comma or an initial capital letter (except for a proper noun) at the start of incomplete quotations. Place outside the quotation marks any punctuation marks that relate to the sentence rather than to the quotation:
The Chief Minister said that he would introduce the bill “next week”, but he did not say what would be in it.

The Chief Minister said that he would introduce the bill “in my own time”.

11.1.2 SHORT COMPLETE QUOTATIONS

Place a comma before the opening quotation mark. With rare exceptions, terminal punctuation marks are placed inside the final quotation mark. For example:

The minister said, “I will introduce the bill next week.”

The minister replied, “That is not good enough.”

“The bill,” the minister said, “will be introduced next week.”

“I will introduce the bill next week,” the minister said.

The minister asked, “When will you understand this?”

The minister asked, “When will you understand this?” believing they never would.

The minister said, “You will never understand this,” laughing as he rose to his feet.

The minister said, “I will introduce the bill next week.”

The minister exclaimed, “Wouldn’t you know it!”

The minister exclaimed, “Wouldn’t you know it!” but the Leader of the Opposition did not react.

The exceptions to this principle are when the introductory clause is a question and the quotation is a statement. In this case, place the terminal punctuation mark outside the closing quotation mark.

Did I hear the Prime Minister say, “I will introduce the bill next week”?

Did he hear the Speaker call, “Order!”?

When a quotation is interrupted by a parenthetic element or interpolation, the associated dashes are shown outside the quotation marks.

The minister said, “I will introduce the bill”—we all know what sort of bill it will be—“next week.”

If there is a formal introduction to a quotation, the comma preceding the quotation may be replaced by a colon.

The minister addressed us with these words: “I will introduce the bill next week.”

11.2 LONGER QUOTATIONS

Longer quotations are indented using the Hansard style template (1 In/11pt = Alt 1).
11.2.1 INTRODUCTION OF INDENTED TEXT

Indented text is introduced with a colon and has one hard return before and after it.

MR SMITH: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

This should be noted by everyone here.

11.2.2 FORMATTING OF INDENTED TEXT

Except for petitions and material taken in from minutes, follow the formatting, paragraphing, grammar, punctuation and capitalisation style of the original document. Follow what is in the original even if the grammar or spelling is wrong. Hansard does not use square brackets to insert words for clarification.

MR HANSON: The relevant council minute reads:

The Council stands firm in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

Any further correspondence should be addressed to: The Secretary, Council Chambers, 104 London Circuit, Canberra.

11.2.3 OMISSION OF WORDS

Show omission of a few words or phrases by ellipsis (see also section 10.6 Ellipsis).

MS LE COUTEUR: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm ... and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

11.2.4 LENGTHY OMISSIONS

Show a lengthy omission from the text by an ellipsis.

MS LE COUTEUR: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred ... The council has dealt with this kind of situation for many years.

11.2.5 INCOMPLETE QUOTATIONS

Use an ellipsis to show that the beginning or end of the quotation is incomplete.

MS LE COUTEUR: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay ...
MS LE COUTEUR: The relevant council minute reads:

... council stands firm in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

11.2.6 INTERRUPTIONS

Use a dash to indicate an interpolation made by the speaker.

MS LE COUTEUR: The relevant council minute reads:

The council stands firm—

and I cannot imagine why it would not—in its backing of the proposal and undertakes to pay for all the legal expenses incurred.

11.2.7 INDIRECT QUOTATIONS

Indirect speech (indicated by the word “that”) is not enclosed in quotation marks.

The minister said that he would introduce the bill next week.

12 SPECIAL STYLE

12.1 COMMONLY MISSPELT, MISUSED OR CONFUSED WORDS AND TERMS

- acknowledgement (not acknowledgment)
- adviser (not advisor)
- affect and effect
- Asia-Pacific region
- blood-borne disease
- chicken-and-egg situation
- child care (n), childcare centre
- colourbond
- database
- dispatch (not despatch)
- drink-driving
eg and ie—leave as is said forge and forego (and foregone and forgone) fundraising

Gen Xers/Yers

ill-thought-out document

inpatient

inquiry (not enquiry)

jail (not gaol)

judgement (not judgment)

licence and license

lip-service

marketplace

meter and metre microbusiness

moneys (not monies)

multi-unit

needle-stick injury

no-one

one-bedroom house

outpatient

P&C association

same-sex-attracted people

schoolchildren

shock-horror

stand-alone (n, adj)

time frame

time line underway workforce

12.2 COMPUTER TERMS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Term</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>analog</td>
<td>hard disk</td>
<td>offline</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASCII</td>
<td>hardware hertz</td>
<td>online</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bar code</td>
<td>HTML</td>
<td>PC</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BASIC</td>
<td>hyperlink</td>
<td>program</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baud</td>
<td>information superhighway</td>
<td>RAM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bit</td>
<td>input (verb)</td>
<td>real-time</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>byte (1 byte = 8 bits)</td>
<td>internet, the net intranet</td>
<td>rebroadcast</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CD-ROM</td>
<td>JPEG</td>
<td>retransmit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>database</td>
<td>keyword</td>
<td>ROM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>debug</td>
<td>kilobyte (1 KB = 1024 bytes)</td>
<td>software</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>desktop publishing</td>
<td>log on, logging on (noun)</td>
<td>spreadsheet</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>disk</td>
<td>mainframe</td>
<td>telemedicine</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e-banking</td>
<td>MASS-PAR</td>
<td>tweet</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e-commerce</td>
<td>megahertz</td>
<td>Twitter</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>e-petition</td>
<td>modem</td>
<td>USB</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>email</td>
<td>motherboard</td>
<td>web server</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Facebook</td>
<td>multimedia</td>
<td>web page</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FAQ</td>
<td>multitask</td>
<td>website</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>filename</td>
<td>narrowcasting</td>
<td>wi-fi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>format, formatting</td>
<td>net</td>
<td>Word (Microsoft Word)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FORTRAN</td>
<td></td>
<td>WordPerfect</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GIF</td>
<td></td>
<td>world wide web, the web</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GUI</td>
<td></td>
<td>webstreaming</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hard copy</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A valuable source of information for computer terms can be found at http://whatis.techtarget.com/