End of Life Choices in the ACT

Submission Number: 38
Date Authorised for Publication: 29/3/18
Thank you for allowing submissions from the general public as to the position held on Euthanasia.

It is my view that no good can come from proceeding with this practice. So many consequences have occurred since legalisation in numerous countries.

For many elderly, disabled and ill, there is no communication from them. So they have need for an advocate, but how can anyone speak for the consciences of silent patients?

This matter of sole choice can easily be betrayed. The purposes of euthanasia can easily be veiled. And the application of euthanasia can easily be botched.

Please use wisdom and caution when addressing this issue as losing even one life unnecessarily, will require accountability on the part of policymakers.

Appreciate your time.

We appreciate the opportunity to write on this subject.

Surely with so much opposition by the medical fraternity, it is time to reject any introduction of this practice.

After all, it implicates nurses and doctors more than politicians, unless endorsement stems from government.

Then recourse is aimed directly at leaders who will suffer the consequences of legalising assisted suicide, which demeans humanity.

Please consider that care and support worthy of our vulnerable society, would be a better way to go.

Yours truly,
