

Federal or territory: who's responsible?

Unlike the rest of Australia, the Australian Capital Territory only has two levels of government: federal and territory. As the capital city of Australia, Canberra is home to many institutions and services responsible to these two different levels of government.

Your task:

Work through the list of well-known places and services in Canberra. Circle whether you think they are looked after by the federal government or the territory government

	Canberra Hospital Garran	Federal	Territory
	Canberra Airport Pialligo	Federal	Territory
	Transport Canberra buses	Federal	Territory
	Cotter Dam Cotter	Federal	Territory
	The Australian Mint Deakin	Federal	Territory
	Domestic Animal Services (the pound) Symonston	Federal	Territory
	Royal Military College Duntroon	Federal	Territory
	Canberra General Post Office Civic	Federal	Territory
	Rubbish and recycling bins	Federal	Territory