Learn why this is important

I am yet to buy an EV for several reasons, listed below in order of importance (most to least):

I currently drive a "petrol" car & not in the market for a 'newish' car.

The cost of new EVs are beyond reach & 2nd hand not available

Although, more & more charging stations are coming on line so range anxiety is lessening, I still worry about running out of charge not within charging range.
