PRIVATE MEMBERS’ BUSINESS

1  MS LAWDER: To move—That this Assembly:

   (1) notes that:

   (a) in the past (up to about 12 months ago), a contracted psychologist visited the ACT to work with deaf and deafblind ACT residents;

   (b) members of the deaf and deafblind community attended this clinic primarily because the psychologist is fluent in Auslan and understands deaf and deafblind people and their mental health issues;

   (c) the doctor had a significant client base here in Canberra and was greatly appreciated by all;

   (d) due to some disagreement with ACT Health, the doctor no longer sees deaf and deafblind patients in Canberra and many of her patients cannot travel to Wollongong to attend her practice there;

   (e) for over 12 months now the deaf and deafblind community have not had access to face to face, one on one mental health services;

   (f) the lack of Auslan interpreters in the ACT, especially available at short notice for a crisis mental health incident, exacerbates the problem; and

* Notifications to which an asterisk (*) is prefixed appear for the first time
(g) the general mental health of our deaf and deafblind community arguably in the ACT is at the moment at an all-time low and requires urgent investment; and

(b) the important contribution that culturally and linguistically diverse organisations make in building and fostering inclusive communities across the ACT;

(c) that with a rapidly growing population in Gungahlin, the ACT Government will need to continue investing in social infrastructure to ensure the community has access to essential facilities;

(d) that whilst existing community and private facilities in Gungahlin and across the city provide a range of spaces and services for multicultural groups to engage in performance and events, these venues have limited capacity to facilitate larger events of more than 350 people;

(e) that the Theo Notaras Multicultural Centre can host a maximum of 300 people in its function room and is in consistently high demand, especially at peak times, with events on most days and an average of six large events per month;
